Manitoba Election Set For July 27 Legislature of Plains Province Dissolved Today

Republicans Put Kansas Governor and Chicago Man Before the Voters

Bracken Liberal-Progressive Government Sets Official Nominations For July 17: House Which Was Ended Today Had Held Four Sessions

Canadian Press
Winnipeg, June 12.—The Manitoba Legislature was dissolved today and writs issued for a general election July 27.

Nominations will be July 17.

Announcement of dissolution was made by Premier John Bracken, head of the Liberal-Progressive government, today.

The polling will be held nineteen days before that in Quebec province, where a general election yesterday was announced for August 15.

The Bracken administration has been in power in Manitoba since 1922, first a straight Progressive administration and since the last election four years ago as Liberal-Progressives.

The standing on the Legislature dissolved today was Liberal-Progressives 34, Conservatives 9, Liberals 3, Labor 5, Farmer-Labor 1, vacant 3; total 55.

Two of the vacancies were in Winnipeg, a ten-member constituency, and the other in Gimli.

CABINET REORGANIZATION

Aside from the bare announcement of the election date, Mr. Bracken made no comment. It was understood a cabinet reorganization would take place before voting.

ELECTION HISTORY

The last general election was held June 16, 1932.

The Bracken administration, which gained power in 1922, was returned in the 1927 general election.

The Legislature dissolved today had held four sessions—1933, 1934, 1935 and 1936.

DEADLY VIPER KILLED HERE AFTER BATTLE

QUINTUPLETS IN BIG SUIT

Guardians Ask $50,000 From Pennsylvania Toy Manufacturers

Associated Press
Philadelphia, June 12.—A $50,000 damage suit on behalf of the Bionne quintuplets was filed in the county court here today against the Bionne Toy Corporation of Allentown, Pa., manufacturer of dolls, toys and infants' apparel.

Hon. David A. Croll, Ontario Minister of Public Welfare, brought the action, based on the alleged unauthorized use of the names, pictures and descriptive titles to promote the sale of the company's products. Mr. Croll is a guardian of the famed Calender babies.

The petition claims the quintuplets have exclusive property rights in their names, popularity and the "phenomenon" of their birth, and anyone who wants to trade on them must pay for the privilege.

QUEBEC COMMISSION CHAIRMAN

Quebec, June 12 (Canadian Press).—Appointment of Oliver Asselin, former Montreal newspaperman, as chairman of the old age pensions commission, was announced today at the Legislative Buildings.

BIG STORM BALKS EVEREST PARTY

Associated Press
Darjeeling, India, June 12.—The last chance that Hugh Rutledge and his mountain-climbing expedition would be able to scale Mount Everest was believed lost today when a cyclonic storm developed in Bengal.

Weather reports showed it was moving rapidly northward and expected to reach Mount Everest in thirty-six hours.

Thus far the British expedition, in addition to the usual dangers of snowfalls and icy footing, has had to contend with a monsoon and torrential rains in the early stages of the climb.

Cast Announced For Fifth Movie Here

William Gargan and Molly Lamont to Have Leading Roles in Picture "Vengeance of the Forest"; Production Will Start Next Week

Leading roles in "Vengeance of the Forest," fifth picture to be made here by Central Films Limited for Columbia Pictures Incorporated in accordance with the British quota regulations, have been assigned to William Gargan, Molly Lamont, J. P. McGowan, David Clyde and Libby Taylor, according to a telegram received by The Times this morning from Kenneth J. Bishop, president of the company, who is at present in Hollywood.

Work on the picture will begin on Monday, June 22, according to the dispatch.

The movie will be directed by Lewis Collins with Harry Knight and Jerry Callahan as assistant directors.

George Meehan will be chief cameraman; William Beckway, assistant cameraman; Herbert Eicke, sound man, and Jack Haynes, assistant sound man. Joe O'Donnell is coming here with the crew in the capacity of writer, and Mrs. William Austin will be business manager.

TO ARRIVE MONDAY

Mr. Bishop expects to reach Victoria next Monday, with his crew and cast following on Thursday.

Mr. McGowan is the only member of the cast who has acted here in previous pictures produced by Central Films. He had important roles in "Secret Patrol" and "Gunsmoke."

The technical crew and Mrs. Austin were here on previous occasions. On completion of "Vengeance of the Forest," Mr. Bishop has plans to make a movie with a provincial police story.

Pictures made here by Central Films since last November are: "Stop, Look and Love," with David Manera and Maxine Doyle; "Tugboat Princess," with Walter C. Kelly, Clyde Cook, Valerie Hobson, Lester Matthews and Edith Fellows; "Secret Patrol," with Charles Starrett and Fionna Barton; and "Gunsmoke," with Starrett and Miss Barton.

New York, June 12.—The New York Daily News today said Libby Holman, widow of Smith Reynolds, and her three-and-a-half-year-old son, Christopher Smith Reynolds, heir to his father's tobacco fortune, have retired under armed guard to a fifty-acre Oyster Bay estate.

HALF-HOLIDAY COURT ACTIONS

Issue Will Be Aired as Result of Prosecutions

Summonses for the prosecution of proprietors of two Victoria clothing stores who kept establishments open last Wednesday to accommodate 1,300 visiting bankers, were issued from the city police station this morning.

This action will probably be the forerunner of the opening up of the entire half-holiday situation by local merchants, who are anxious to remain open Wednesday afternoon for the accommodation of tourists.

The police action followed the receiving of complaints that customers were served in the two stores on Wednesday afternoon.

The objection which the merchants take to the legislation is based on the control of hours of work by recent provincial statute. It is understood the merchants will seek some plan under which they may keep their stores open on all week days but rotate their staffs in order to give them their usual half day a week off.

The half holidays are governed by provincial statute of 1924 which became law before the hours-of-work legislation was introduced.

The minimum penalty for first conviction under the statute is $10.

ALBERTA SCRIP PLAN RAPPED

Canadian Press
Edmonton, June 12.—Certificates which the Alberta government is planning to issue are "diametrically opposed in principle to Social Credit" and "involve the use of the people's credit for the financial benefit," Premier Aberhart was told today in a protest registered by the Alberta Provincial Douglas Social Credit Association.

The association, with headquarters in Calgary, in a letter to the Premier reminded him that "financial credit belongs to the people and not to the government or to the financiers."

PORT RENFREW LOG OPERATION

Government Approves Railway Location on West Coast Limits

Proceeding the start of a new logging operation in the Port Renfrew district, the provincial government has approved the location of sixteen miles of logging railway easterly from that point. It was announced at the Legislative Buildings today.

The work is in hand by the newly-formed Mainland Logging Company, Russell Mills, engineer for the company, who is now in the city, will leave shortly to make arrangements for the start of operations. Cruisers will be sent into the district in three weeks, he said.

Two hundred men will be employed when the full operation is working, he said. The company will engage in log marketing only and will not operate a mill.

Stand of Dominion on League and Sanctions Probably Will Be Discussed Next Week; Premier Promises

Ottawa, June 12.—A full dress debate on Canada's attitude in international affairs, particularly in relation to the League of Nations and sanctions, will probably take place in the House of Commons next week, it was learned today. Premier King promised, J. S. Woodsworth, C.C.F. leader, a day would be set aside in the Commons for such a discussion.

Pending this debate, which will come up when the Geneva vote in the estimates is tabled, the government has given no indication of its reaction to the sanctions speech of Chancellor Neville Chamberlain of the United Kingdom, Eschequer.

Mr. Chamberlain, in an address in London Wednesday evening, urged sanctions against Italy be lifted.

MINT SENDS OUT SILVER DOLLARS

Canadian Press
Ottawa, June 12.—Those big silver dollars, instituted in 1935 and pretty scarce for a while, continue to pour from the Royal Mint here. Hon. C. A. Dunning, Finance Minister, told the House of Commons last night $25,229 of the 1935 silver dollars had been put in circulation. A 1936 dollar was being put out and already 200,000 had been issued.

Dr. M. R. James Dies in England

Associated Press
Eton, Eng., June 12.—Dr. Montague Rhodes James, provost of Eton College for eighteen years, and noted Biblical scholar, died today. He was seventy-three years old.

In 1926 he announced the discovery in the library of Hereford Cathedral of new passages of a Gospel credited to St. Peter, which had been neglected for six centuries.

New Interest Cut Saves B.C. Money

Reduction in Ottawa Rate on Loans to Provinces Will Cut Province's Charges By $275,000 a Year; Fresh Hopes For Refunding

Interest rates, as they affect the provincial treasury of British Columbia, took another downward slide today as the Dominion Government announced a reduction from 4 per cent to 3 per cent in the charge on loans to provinces, and it was calculated British Columbia would save about $23,000 a month or $275,000 on the year.

A short time ago the province secured a cut from 4 1/4 to 3 1/4 in the rate it pays its bankers on treasury bills.

These two reductions brought to an all-time low the interest paid by the province on its current borrowings. Two years ago British Columbia was paying 5 per cent for its bank and Dominion Government loans.

Last reported figures show the province owes the Dominion $27,572,000, but since they were made public there have been a few monthly advances for relief. On the new rate the province will be paying interest to the Dominion of something over $800,000 a year.

MOVE TO REFUNDING

The treasury today reserved its opinion of the effect the lower interest rates might have on bringing about a refunding of the funded provincial debt, which totals roughly $148,000,000.

With Governor Alfred M. Landon Unanimously Nominated Yesterday Evening for Presidency, Convention at Cleveland Today Unanimously Named Col. Frank Knox, Chicago Publisher, as Candidate for Vice-presidency; Convention Ends Work and Delegates Go Home

Associated Press
Cleveland, Ohio, June 12.—The Republican ticket against President Roosevelt and the New Deal is Landon and Knox. With Governor Alfred M. Landon of Kansas unanimously nominated yesterday evening for the Presidency, the national convention unanimously nominated Col. Frank Knox of Chicago for the Vice-Presidency today after Senator Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan had asked, in a letter read to the delegates, that his name should not be considered.

The vote on the only ballot today was: Knox 1,003, others none.

With its work completed, the convention adjourned sine die at 1.14 this afternoon, eastern standard time.

DELEGATES SWING OVER

As did the rivals of Governor Alf M. Landon of Kansas last night, Governor Harry W. Rice of Maryland and former Ambassador Walter Edge of New Jersey today released their delegates in the vice-presidential nomination discussion.

The name of Arthur W. Little of New York also was withdrawn, leaving Knox the only name before the convention.

One of the deciding factors was a caucus which sent the ninety New York votes solidly for Knox. Right up to the meeting of the session, there was talk of drafting Vandenberg, but he was adamant.

WELL-KNOWN PUBLISHER

Frank Knox, nominated today, has been editor and publisher of The Chicago Daily News since August, 1931.

Political history was made yesterday evening when the name of Governor Alfred M. Landon was the only one even presented to the convention, and on the roll call he received 984 of the 1,003 votes. The teller's announcement was drowned by the din of his shouting and parading followers.

Of the nineteen non-Landon votes, Wisconsin sent the most, followed by William E. Borah of Idaho, while a single one from West Virginia's bloc also went to the "Lion of Idaho." Wisconsin then quickly moved that the nomination be made unanimous. Another tumult spoke the affirmative answer.

BORAH'S POSITION

One question hung fire today. "What will Senator Borah do?" many delegates wondered.

Speeding to Washington after losing the presidential race but winning recognition for his views in a compromise platform which the convention adopted with a whooping chorus of "ayes," Borah was reported stunned on hearing that Governor Landon had wired the convention reserving the right to place his personal interpretation on two major planks.

STIFF FIGHT IN CAMPAIGN

Landon Promises U.S. Republicans Aggressive Presidential Election Efforts

Associated Press
Topeka, Kas., June 12.—Alfred M. Landon picked out a new necktie, took a fighting stance and gathered up the reins of the Republican Party today with the avowed determination of leading his followers to victory in the United States November elections.

"I propose to wage the most aggressive campaign the Republican Party has seen in years," newsmen were told by the Kansas Governor, who yesterday evening was unanimously nominated presidential candidate at the party's convention in Cleveland, Ohio.

The tumult among Topeka's 65,000 when the phrase "Landon nominated" rippled across the wires and through the ether last night was unparalleled here since the Great War armistice.

In the ear-splitting demonstration thousands thrashed their way through the downtown district and surged across the lawn of the executive mansion.

NEIGHBORS' GOODWILL

Waving his hand for quiet, Governor Landon appeared before the uproarious crowd accompanied by Mrs. Landon and her mother.

"Nothing is more worthwhile than the regard of one's neighbors," he told the throng, suddenly becoming silent.

"For the sentiments you manifest by your gathering here tonight, Mrs. Landon and I thank you from the bottom of our hearts. We shall always cherish the memory of this happy evening together."

New Cabinet For Quebec Tomorrow

Hon. J. A. Godbout, Interviewing M.P.'s Today, Is Expected Soon to Complete List of Ministers

Canadian Press
Quebec, June 12.—Its interest accentuated by a sudden lull in political activity, Quebec waited today for Hon. J. Adolphe Godbout, its new gentleman farmer Premier, to reveal the personnel of his cabinet.

In the open, there was no activity on the political scene, but behind closed doors there were many conferences that gave rise to speculation concerning the identity of the men who will form a cabinet to succeed the government of Premier Taschereau, who resigned yesterday.

Possibility appeared that Mr. Godbout, a former college professor, might not name his cabinet until tomorrow.

Hon. T. D. Bouchard, former Minister of Municipal Affairs, was one of the few men met by reporters. He said he knew nothing about the new personnel, but said if he was appointed his plan to make unemployed work for their relief would "go through as originally planned."

The provincial general election is set for August 15.

Prepare For Trade Conference

Canadian Press
Montreal, June 12.—Four Ottawa departmental experts sailed today for England, where they will prepare for a conference between Canada and Great Britain concerning the 1932 trade agreement. The four are: Norman Robertson, Department of External Affairs; H. B. McKinnon of the Tariff Board; L. D. Wilgous, Department of Trade and Commerce; and H. D. Scully, Department of National Revenue.

New Constitution For Russia ELECTIONS NEW SOVIET PLAN

All-union Soviet Committee Announces Scheme For Two Chambers To Initiate and Promulgate Legislation

Associated Press
Moscow, June 12.—An official programme for the building of "Soviet democracy," which calls for a government through two parliament-like bodies to be known as supreme councils, was before the public today.

The presidium of the All-Union Central Executive Committee approved the text of a proposed new constitution for the U.S.S.R., and convened a session of the All-Union Congress of Soviets for November 25 to pass on the constitution.

Members of the two bodies, according to a statement issued yesterday evening, will be elected for terms of four years and have the right of initiating and promulgating legislation.

Drawn up under the personal supervision of Josef Stalin, the constitution grants equal voting rights to all citizens save those disenfranchised by the courts.

SECRET POLLING
It establishes a system of direct and secret elections and extends citizen rights to freedom of speech and press.

The Parliament as a whole, or two chambers combined, is to be known as the Supreme Council of the Union and the Council of Nationalities. The former will be made up of approximately half that number.

Deputies to the Council of the Union will be elected directly by the citizenry, the ratio being one delegate to each 200,000 inhabitants.

REPUBLICS TO CHOOSE
Deputies to the Council of Nationalities will be chosen by the Supreme Councils of the eleven allied republics making up the U.S.S.R., and by central Soviets in the so-called autonomous republics and provinces.

Each allied republic will have the right to name ten deputies to this body. Each autonomous republic will name five, and each autonomous province two.

SOUTH CHINA ARMY HALTED

Nanking Troops and Invading Canton Forces Clash in Hunan Province

Canadian Press From Hava
Shanghai, June 12.—Nanking Government troops and invading southern forces clashed today south of Hengchow, in Central Hunan.

News of the outbreak of hostilities, previously reported from Hankow, was reliably confirmed here.

Nanking forces, it was learned, have been fortifying the area just south of Hengchow. Reports of the southern occupation of that city, it was indicated, were premature.

Semi-official sources reported General Pai Chung-hai, commander of the Kwangsi troops, had ordered the capture of Hengchow within four days.

The first attempt by the invaders to take Hengchow today was apparently repulsed by government defenders. There are six Nanking divisions in that area.

PROTEST VOICED
Taro Ishii, Japanese Consul-General, today protested to Mayor Wu Teh-shen over the anti-Japanese demonstrations of Shanghai students.

There were several outbursts yesterday, but they were quickly checked by Chinese police.

Hongkong, June 12.—South China troops were reported here to have halted in their advance to the north today after the news of the central government had showered them with printed warnings.

The aerial pamphlets warned the southern army further advance toward Nanking, the seat of the central government, would result in grave consequences.

A delegation of central government officials, headed by Finance Minister H. H. Kung, was reported en route to Canton to discuss a southwest demand for national unity against alleged Japanese aggression.

Vancouver, June 12 (Canadian Press).—Charles W. Snudden, assistant city license inspector and a veteran municipal employee, died suddenly at his desk today. The medical health officer, called immediately to administer first aid, was unable to revive the stricken man. He had been employed at the city hall for twenty years.

BLUM BILLS ARE APPROVED

French Chamber Sends 40-hour Week Plan to Senate; Others Voted

Canadian Press
Paris, June 12.—A bill establishing a forty-hour work week throughout France, fifth and last of the Blum government's major internal measures, was passed in the Chamber of Deputies today by a majority of 385 to 175.

The measure was carried after a vigorous debate in the Chamber. It was sent immediately to the Senate, to which the four other bills which constitute Premier Leon Blum's promised labor measures had been forwarded.

The other four measures were adopted by the Chamber last night. The Senate is expected to act on them next week.

The measures provide paid annual vacations, ratify the employers'-workers' agreement for wage increases and collective bargaining, restore pay cuts of government servants, and exempt war veterans from certain taxes.

NO CONFIDENCE VOTE
The Chamber adjourned until next Tuesday without being asked by Premier Blum for a vote of confidence.

A Senate committee immediately approved the first four bills. It had received, reserving decision on the forty-hour-week measure until it has a chance to hear from Premier Blum tomorrow.

During a stormy earlier session of the Chamber M. Blum accused "foreign elements" of meddling in the French strike movement. The Premier vigorously defended the government's forty-hour bill and strike arbitration measures against Rightist attacks.

MUST KEEP ORDER
"I must tell the Chamber clearly I am utterly resolved to assure order in the streets," M. Blum declared.

Admitting the increased "gravity of the strike movement, in which sporadic disorders have appeared, he charged foreign elements with stirring the unions and were seeking to create incidents. They would be sharply dealt with by the government, he promised.

Roger Salengro, Minister of the Interior, meanwhile announced police had the situation in hand after persons attempting to form crowds such as those which marched yesterday under red flags had been arrested.

RESUME WORK
Salengro declared strikers were gradually resuming work, and that 967 factories, held by strikers previously, had been evacuated in the last twenty-four hours.

Hundreds of thousands of new strikers continued to swell the workers' ranks in the capital and provinces.

Paris cafe, restaurant and hotel workers reached an agreement with their employers during one of the gloomiest days in the capital in years.

Monopoly Scored By Roosevelt

U.S. President, in Speech in Texas, Calls For "Democracy in Opportunity"

Associated Press
Dallas, Tex., June 12.—Striking at monopoly and "chiselers" and calling for "democracy in opportunity" as well as in government, President Roosevelt declared here today the net result of economic control by the few "has meant the ownership of labor as a commodity."

Standing in the packed Texas Centennial Stadium, the President asserted a "lessening of sectionalism" was apparent on every hand and the "good neighbor policy" should be extended across the border to Mexico and other lands so that war may be forever banished from this hemisphere.

"If labor is to be a commodity in the United States, in the final analysis it means we shall become a nation of boarding houses instead of a nation of homes," he declared.

"If our people ever submit to that, they will have said 'good-bye' to their historic freedom. Men do not fight for boarding houses. They will fight for their homes."

The President led up to his anti-monopoly theme by tracing the history of Texas wars on the battlefield and against corporate control.

FRENCH WARSHIPS IN COLLISION

Canadian Press From Hava
Cherbourg, June 12.—The French destroyer Foudroyant collided with the battleship Lorraine at St. Vaast tonight as the second squadron weighed anchor for Cherbourg.

There were no casualties. Both ships suffered slight damage.

SUPERANNUATION ORDER IS MADE

Canadian Press
Vancouver, June 12.—Mr. Justice H. B. Robertson in the British Columbia Supreme Court yesterday granted Robert Knox, former Vancouver detective, a declaration that Superannuation Commissioner Norman Baker of Victoria must acknowledge his claim for superannuation.

Knox, after twenty-six years' service in the Vancouver police department, was dismissed in January, 1935, and re-engaged for eleven days in December. He reached the retiring age on September 23, 1935.

BIG CONGRESS

Catholic Families of Vancouver Gather Flowers For Great Outdoor Altar

Canadian Press
Vancouver, June 12.—While Roman Catholic families of Vancouver were gathering flowers for a great open air altar being erected in Stanley Park, the Archdiocesan Eucharistic Congress started today.

Pontifical high masses will be sung on Saturday and Sunday at this altar, an exact replica of the altar of the Holy Rosary Cathedral here.

Full ritual of the church will be observed for today's ceremonies as Cardinal Villeneuve, Archbishop of Quebec, highest ranking dignitary of the Catholic Church in Canada, opens the public tribute of Catholics to the Holy Rosary Cathedral.

Attending the Cardinal will be more than twenty visiting prelates from all parts of Canada and neighboring states of the United States.

His eminence, who returned today from a short informal visit to Victoria, will be escorted in procession from the Archbishop's Palace to the Holy Rosary Cathedral, where Archbishop W. M. Duke of Vancouver will officially welcome him.

After the ceremony a procession will escort him back to the Archbishop's Palace.

Visiting prelates and priests will deliver special sermons during a Holy Hour at all Catholic churches of the city in the evening and later a civic reception will be held, attended by Lieutenant-Governor Eric Hamber and other governmental and civic representatives.

Railways Join To Save $1,100,000

Senate Committee Told By Fullerton of C.N.R. and J. E. Armstrong of C.P.R. Co-operation So Far Gives Small Results; D. C. Coleman Heard

Canadian Press
Ottawa, June 12.—In three years of effort to achieve co-operation between the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific Railways, only ten miles of line had been abandoned.

J. E. Armstrong, assistant chief engineer of the C.P.R., told the Senate railways committee today.

Projects for further abandonment had been and were being studied, said Mr. Armstrong.

An annual saving of $1,100,000 to both railways had been accomplished, and arrangements were being considered for a further saving of $500,000, while recommendations had been made which would result in effecting economies of $25,000.

D. C. Coleman, vice-president of the C.N.R., agreed with the statement made some years ago by Sir Edward Beatty, C.P.R. president, that unification of the two transportation systems would effect a saving of $65,000,000.

ESTIMATE $15,000,000
Chairman Fullerton of the C.N.R. did not agree with that. His technical officers had placed the saving at $15,000,000 for both lines.

It was difficult to obtain from the Board of Railway Commissioners' permission to abandon lines, said Mr. Fullerton.

Proposals had been advanced for abandonment of portions of trunk lines, but, he said, when the board declined to allow the railways to give up small "jerk-water roads that don't mean anything, what chance have you on a trunk line?"

PRINCE RUPERT LINE
"Take the line from Edmonton to Prince Rupert," he said. "We are losing money on it every day. But can you abandon it? You would leave people stranded high and dry. I can't see how it is possible to do it unless you take settlers out of there altogether."

SPIRIT LACKING
Mr. Fullerton said the obstacle in the way of effecting larger economies had been the absence of a spirit of co-operation among those concerned.

So far practically everything achieved had been effected at the expense of labor, and Mr. Fullerton voiced distaste of displacing men from their work.

He agreed with Senator Meighen the only way to improve the finan-

New Code Clause Up For Debate

While Removing Section 98, Government Asks Commons to Strengthen Section 133 Against Sedition

Ottawa, June 11.—The Commons, if it does not reach the subject this afternoon, may this evening debate amendments to the Criminal Code, including repeal of section 98.

The bill, introduced by Minister of Justice Lapointe, was given formal first reading yesterday afternoon.

Section 98 of the code has been subject to contention in political debates for years and its repeal has been the constant demand of Labor and Leftist groups. Its repeal was a promise of the Liberal Party in the last general election.

While carrying out this promise in the new measure, the government has inserted a new section which makes applicable section 133 of the act, dealing with sedition, to "persons who advocate the unlawful use of force to accomplish governmental change."

Section 98, containing ten sub-sections, empowered the crown to proceed against those who publicly advocate the use of force in overthrowing constitutional authority.

To section 133 it is now proposed to add sub-section 4, which will read: "Without limiting the generality of the meaning of the expression 'seditious intention' everyone shall be presumed to have a seditious intention who publishes or circulates any writing, printing or document in which it is advocated, or who teaches or advocates, the use, without the authority of law, of force, as a means of accomplishing any governmental change."

VETERAN'S SUIT IS DISMISSED

Vancouver, June 12.—Mr. Justice A. I. Fisher, in the B.C. Supreme Court today, dismissed an action of Cecil J. Coleman, a war pensioner, against Adah Janet Emily Mason-Rooke, Vancouver, executrix of the estate of the late William Mason-Rooke.

Carr claimed rescission of an agreement to purchase certain lands in Vancouver and the return of $875 which he paid on the purchase price.

NEW INTEREST CUT
Saves B.C. Money

Since 1934 there has been a refunding act on the British Columbia statute books providing for a conversion down to 3 or 3½ per cent of all the funded debt except the bonds issued under the colonial inscribed stock act in London. The province pays an average of 4½ per cent on this debt.

Execution of the refunding plan has been delayed until the money market is better and the province can secure money at the lower rates. It is believed that with the general trend to cheaper money throughout Canada, the scheme may be carried out in the near future.

Since he took office Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance, has continuously pressed for lower rates with the refunding plan in mind. He repeatedly explained that British Columbia would endeavor to justify cheaper money by meeting all its obligations in full and financing all its current accounts, with the exception of the heavy relief costs and sinking funds, out of current revenues.

Mr. Hart has shown large surpluses on the current side of his budget, excluding these two items, in the last two years.

Pursuing its campaign for lower interest the province, as from June 1, reduced from 6 to 4½ the rate it charges on all deferred payments by the public.

OTTAWA ACTION
Canadian Press
council has been passed authorizing the Finance Minister to reduce interest on loans to the provinces from 4 to 3 per cent after July 1. This was disclosed yesterday.

Interest now current on such loans is 4 per cent, the order states, but decline in interest rates makes it expedient to reduce the rate on these loans to the provinces.

When the budget was brought down last month, Finance Minister Dunning gave the total of loans to provinces under the relief acts as $116,527,164. They were divided as follows: British Columbia, $37,972,680; Manitoba, $15,504,855; Saskatchewan, $48,968,629; Alberta, $14,081,000.

Sanctions Soon May Be Lifted

Britain and France Move For Common Front, While Italy Waits; League Council Called For June 26

Associated Press
Paris, June 12.—Great Britain and France moved toward a common "sanctions front" today, which informed sources predicted would reach its culmination at Geneva late this month.

The new Socialist administration, harassed by strikes at home, began a study of a British proposal to lift war sanctions from Italy and revamp the covenant of the League of Nations.

Some quarters declared the government was inclined to view suspension of the war penalties as "the only practical course," but was anxious for British collaboration.

The basis for the negotiations, diplomatic sources reported, furnished by Sir George Clerk, British ambassador to France, who advanced the suggestions to Premier Leon Blum orally.

Sir George proposed these points. It was reported: Cancellation of sanctions on the ground they failed to prevent the conquest of Ethiopia and it is now impossible to use them to punish Italy.

Acknowledgement of the new regime controlling the kingdom of Emperor Haile Selassie, provided Premier Mussolini agrees to work out the conquered nation's definite status at Geneva.

Establishment of regional groups under the League covenant, with obligatory future application of sanctions to be called for only in the region where an act of aggression occurs.

LEAGUE COUNCIL, JUNE 26
Associated Press
Geneva, June 12.—The League of Nations Council was formally convened today for June 26.

London, June 12.—Lively discussion continued in parliamentary circles today concerning the "anti-sanctions" speech of Chancellor of the Exchequer Neville Chamberlain.

The Labor and Liberal opposition parties in Parliament agreed to establish a resolution asking the government to take steps to establish "property right in news within the empire, and if possible, internationally."

The resolution was submitted by Sir Roderick Jones, chairman of Reuters, on behalf of the drafting committee. It was seconded by W. Rupert Davies of the Kingston (Ont.) Whig-Standard. It also was endorsed by Sir Thomas McAra of the London Newspaper Proprietors' Association, and supported by all the overseas delegates.

The resolution said: "In view of the discussion by the conference regarding property right in news, the principle of which the Dominions, India and other overseas delegates have unanimously expressed themselves as strongly supporting, the conference requests the council of the Empire Press Union to take appropriate action to establish property right in news within the empire, and if possible, internationally."

DID NOT VOTE
Arthur Grime, president of the British Newspaper Society, refrained from voting in view of the attitude of his society.

At earlier sittings the use by radio, paper, and press associations of considerable costs was discussed.

TRIBUTES PAID
The conference closed with tributes to Major J. J. Astor, chairman of The Times Publishing Company, London, and president of the council of the Empire Press Union, and to Lady Violet Astor for their help and courtesy.

Sir Thomas McAra asserted the first annual conference of the Empire Press Union had been an emphatic success.

The next conference will be held in London shortly after the coronation of the King, which will take place in June, 1937.

Empire Press Union Moves to Establish Property Right in Items

DOCTORS FIGHT SCARLET FEVER

Canadian Press
Calgary, June 12.—The worst outbreak of scarlet fever since 1924 was being battled by doctors and health authorities in Calgary today.

Since April, 216 cases have been reported, with ninety-eight during the first twelve days of June. No deaths have been reported.

The city's isolation hospital, with seventy cases, was filled to capacity today, and four nurses in training at the General Hospital were fever patients, while many children were being treated at their homes under quarantine restrictions.

TWO MEN AND WOMAN SHOT

Three in Alberta in Critical State; Miner Hunt By Police

Canadian Press
Calgary, June 12.—Two men and a woman were wounded here early today when police said, George Panek, a miner, invaded their homes and opened fire. All three have body wounds and their condition is critical.

Panek was said to have fled to the bush immediately, pursued by constables, while other police and citizens took up strategic positions in the bush country through which it was said the fugitive might be traveling toward Hinton or Colesburg.

Victims of the shooting are Mrs. John Jesse, John Harka and Andrew Eastman.

A fourth, William Lobos, ducked the volley of shots and escaped unhurt.

Calomine is about 200 miles west of Edmonton on the Alberta coal branch.

It was about 3 a.m. when Panek, reportedly carrying a club-bag and an automatic, strode into Mrs. Jesse's home and shot her once.

From her cupboard he took a loaf of bread and then dashed to Lobos's home, where Eastman and Harka were boarders. He found all three together, fired a number of shots and then ran from the house, police reports state.

In a fight with Eastman last year Panek lost a finger and is reported to have held a grudge as a result.

MUZZLES FOR DOGS ARE URGED

Canadian Press
Vancouver, June 12.—Vancouver aldermen today were considering means of enforcing a by-law passed a year ago prohibiting police dogs running at large in the city without muzzles, following complaints made by several residents of the Kerrisdale district.

R. S. Plant told aldermen residents in this district have been terrorized for several years by Alsatian dogs. Several residents are reported to have been badly bitten by these dogs. H. A. Urquhart, city license inspector, said 948 police dogs were done away with in 1934 and 200 last year.

Tent Caterpillar Plague in Ontario

Canadian Press
Sudbury, Ont., June 12.—Crawling over the countryside in millions, tent caterpillars have laid waste trees, clover and hay fields in this district of northern Ontario. They are climbing over houses, hanging from telephone poles and blocking trains as they litter the rails. They even swim through lakes and rivers to reach foliage and leave a trail of ruin. Thousands of trees in the Sudbury area have been denuded of leaves.

EARLY MANITOBA ELECTION REPORT

Broad News Service For Empire Urged

Managers of Canadian Press and Other Associations Asked By Empire Press Union to Plan Increased Exchange

Canadian Press
London, June 12.—Consultation between the general managers of the news gathering agencies of the British Empire looking toward an exchange of intra-imperial news more often and more fully, was recommended yesterday by the Empire Press Union, meeting in annual conference.

Upon motion of J. H. Woods of The Calgary Herald, seconded by Sir Roderick Jones, chairman of Reuters, the conference resolved on consultation between the general managers of the Canadian Press, the Associated Press and other news gathering bodies of the Dominions, and Reuters and similar agencies in advancement of the recommendation.

The resolution followed an address by Mr. Woods in which he suggested formation of an imperial news pool in London. Such a pool would receive the contributions of Dominions and other parts of the empire and would redistribute information by cable and mail.

CANADA'S EXAMPLE
He pointed to the Canadian Press as an example of what could be done elsewhere in the empire, saying: "The development of the co-operative news system of the Canadian Press has proved the largest single influence in the promotion of union among the Canadian provinces and in the removal of disintegrating suspicion and misunderstanding."

"What we want," said Mr. Woods, "is an increased interchange of spot news and what might be termed cultural information between component parts of the British Empire. If this present conference is to do its duty on this subject, we should not confine ourselves to the passing of a pious resolution, but should seek to make some practical advancement in the realizing of the ideal which previous resolutions have expressed."

Mr. Woods went on to deprecate the singular lack of Dominion news in London newspapers, pointing out that dispatches Reuters brings into London, containing excellent and varied news from Canada and elsewhere, seldom get into print.

NEW DEALS COMPARED
Sir Keith Murdoch of Australia also thought the Dominions were getting very little show in the British press. He did not attribute this to the British press being less interested in the Dominions but rather to the failure of editors and correspondents to make empire news really interesting to English people.

Sir Henry Horton of New Zealand compared the small space given New Zealand's "new deal" compared with the French "new deal" of which it was almost a copy.

BANK NOTES TO BE BILINGUAL

Commons Approves English-French Bank of Canada Bills

Ottawa, June 11.—The bill empowering the government to buy control of the Bank of Canada passed through the committee stage in the Commons yesterday evening, but will be reprinted before being sent to the Senate.

The bill includes provision for bilingual currency, bills printed in French and English. When Conservative Leader Bennett opposed bilingual notes, there was a short but pithy debate in which Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Justice Minister, pleaded for less talk of race against race, language against language and more outward tokens of a united Canada. It also drew from a Saskatchewan Liberal, W. A. Tucker, his first speech in the House in the French language.

In opposing bilingual notes, Mr. Bennett said he was not speaking for his party, but expressing only his own personal viewpoint. He wished his followers to speak their own minds. To change the notes from all-English and all-French into bilingual currency would stir up resentment, he said. There should be freedom of choice. A Canadian should be able to choose bills in either language.

NOT HELPFUL
It was the Conservative leader who was precipitating this question into politics, Mr. Lapointe said, "and I do not believe that will help. Other countries, Belgium, Switzerland, South Africa and the Irish Free State, had bilingual currency."

"We should all join hands and join hearts for the development of Canada," suggested Mr. Lapointe. The minister said he could not believe any section of Canada would be so narrow as to believe it would be harmful to print currency in both languages.

"I wish in Canada," Mr. Lapointe concluded, "there would be no question of minorities. I wish all Canadians would act, live and treat the others as equal Canadians."

J. S. Woodsworth, C.C.F. leader, said that as between bilingual notes and two sets of notes he preferred bilingual notes and supported the change. At the same time he regretted the change was being made at this time. Such changes might prove very inflammable.

RECOGNIZED IN 1934
Hon. Charles Dunning, Minister of Finance, said the principle of both languages on currency had been recognized in 1934 when the Bank of Canada bill was first enacted. Putting both languages on the same note was the most intelligent way of applying the principle.

KING EDWARD TO BE AT VIMY

He Will Unveil Canadian War Memorial July 26

Ottawa, June 12.—King Edward VIII looks forward to meeting on Vimy Ridge many of his former comrades of the Canadian Corps, and is glad circumstances will permit him to unveil Canada's National Memorial there July 26, according to a message received yesterday by Walter S. Woods, vice-chairman of the National Vimy Pilgrimage Committee.

At the same time, Leopold, King of the Belgians, conveyed his greetings and declared he and the Belgian people would associate themselves with the pilgrimage with feelings of deep gratitude and emotion.

Some weeks ago a message of greeting was received from President Albert Lebrun of France. "I am very glad it will be possible for me to be present at Vimy Ridge on July 26, and to unveil Canada's national memorial to her dead," wrote King Edward.

"I look forward also to meeting there so large a gathering of my former comrades in the Great War, and to renewing associations which I have formed on many occasions during my visits to Canada, with ex-servicemen and women in all parts of the Dominion."

MERGING OF STAFFS DEBATED

Beverage Rooms Are Denounced

Toronto, June 12.—Ontario's beverage rooms are "gilded palaces of debauchery and profligacy," in the opinion of James Mayor, secretary of the Lay Association of the Toronto Conference of the United Church of Canada. The meeting adopted a resolution condemning beverage rooms as "a menace to the manhood and womanhood of the province," and advocated stricter control of the sale of intoxicating beverages.

SUFFERS INJURIES IN PLANE CRASH

RT. HON. W. M. HUGHES

Brisbane, Australia, June 12.—Rt. Hon. William Morris Hughes, Minister of Health in the federal government, suffered a fracture of the collarbone in an airplane crash here yesterday evening.

The airliner lost its bearings during a heavy rainfall. It circled the airport while hundreds of automobiles assembled to illuminate the field with their headlights. No one was killed in the ensuing crash.

Mr. Hughes was Prime Minister of Australia during the war years. Only recently he suffered painful injuries in an automobile collision.

U.S. Republicans Oppose Reciprocity

National Convention Approves Election Platform Calling For Repeal of Trade Agreement With Canada

Cleveland, Ohio, June 12.—Repeal of the reciprocal tariffs, under which the Canadian-United States trade treaty was drawn up, return of relief administration to the states, interstate regulation of public utilities and the right of collective bargaining are among the principal planks of the platform of the Republican Party for the presidential election, as adopted by the National Convention here yesterday evening.

All three London planks — gold, the merit system — had been turned down by the convention's resolutions committee or its subcommittee several times in an effort to write a platform that would unite all party factions.

CONSTITUTIONAL RULE
After a broad and almost all-inclusive denunciation of the New Deal, the platform proper starts with a pledge to maintain constitutional government, defend the Supreme Court's power, and preserve "the American system of free enterprise."

CHIEF PLANKS
Major planks include: pledges to: 1—Repeal the reciprocal tariff agreements under which the Canadian-United States trade treaty was fashioned, and restore the principle of flexible tariff.

2—Remove restrictions on production, abandon policies that raise costs, encourage legitimate business, withdraw government competition, eliminate unnecessary regulation.

3—Return responsibility for relief administration to "non-political local agencies familiar with community problems."

4—Approve a "pay as you go" policy on old-age security under state administration with contributions from the federal government financed by a direct and widely-distributed tax, and encourage adoption by state of "honest and practical measures for meeting the problems of unemployment insurance."

AID TO AGRICULTURE
5—Aid agriculture by a soil conservation programme stand for "abundance instead of scarcity," support a land use programme including acquisition of non-productive farm lands, pay "reasonable benefits" on exportable surpluses to make the tariff effective, and furnish government assistance in disposing of surpluses.

6—Enforce vigorously criminal and civil laws against monopolies and trusts and demand enactment of "such additional legislation as is necessary to make it impossible for private monopoly to exist."

7—Regulate the marketing of securities and interstate activities of public utilities.

8—Stop "the folly of uncontrolled spending" and balance the budget by cutting expenditures.

9—Support "a sound currency to be preserved at all hazards" and repeal the President's power further to devalue the dollar.

NEW YORK WINS HEALTH AWARD

Albany, N.Y., June 12.—The New York state health department will receive a special award at the annual conference of the state and provincial health authorities of North America in Vancouver, June 22-23, for its part in stimulating interest in the 1935 health conservation contest, Commissioner Edward S. Godfrey said today.

The national contest is conducted annually by the United States Chamber of Commerce and the American Public Health Association. Its purpose is to determine which cities in various population groups are conducting the most effective public health programmes.

New York state with eight awards led last year.

DOCUMENTS FOR TRIALS

Ottawa, June 12 (Canadian Press).—With the object of making admissible in criminal proceedings documents produced during investigations under the Combines Investigation Act, an amendment to the act was placed on the order paper of the House of Commons yesterday.

As the act stands, documents received during an investigation under the Combines Investigation Act are barred from use in any criminal proceedings which may follow the investigation. The amendment will change this.

New Treaty For Manchukuo

Japan Gives Up Some of Extra-territorial Rights in Country

Associated Press
Tokyo, June 12.—Drivelling foreign interests in Manchuria were puzzled today over the effect a new Japanese-Manchukuo treaty may exert on their extra-territorial status.

The agreement, by which Japan relinquishes minor phases of her extra-territorial rights in Manchukuo, was signed at Hankow Wednesday by Gen. Kenkichi Yoda, Japanese ambassador to Manchukuo, and Chang Yen-ching, Manchukuoan Foreign Minister.

British and other foreigners in Manchuria still claim extra-territoriality under the old treaty. With China's status has not been definitely challenged despite growing agitation by Japanese officials and the Manchukuoan government for rejection of their claim.

Indications are, however, the present status of Occidentals will be continued indefinitely.

Now stands. These planks are widely regarded as Borah victories. Governor A. M. Landon of Kansas by telegram a short time after he had been nominated Republican candidate for President, informed the convention that if it should prove impossible for states to regulate women's and children's wages and hours without a constitutional amendment, "I shall favor a constitutional amendment."

BALANCED BUDGET
Then he went on to speak of the word "gold," assiduously avoided by the platform committee. He said one requisite for a "sound currency" is a balanced budget and another a currency "expressed in terms of gold and convertible into gold."

Senator Borah, who has declared against a constitutional amendment and denounced any more to return to the gold standard, was told of this as he sped by train from Cleveland toward Washington.

Passing his hand several times over his face, Borah said: "Well, that's his business. Why didn't he send it (the telegram) sooner?"

After working day and night for over forty-eight hours, the platform committee finally presented the result of its labors to the convention yesterday evening, just before the nomination of Governor Landon for President. Herman Langworthy of Missouri read the 3,000-word document.

In general, the final draft agreed with predictions. The phrase in the 1932 Democratic platform — "sound currency to be preserved at all hazards" — was picked up bodily as a way out of difficulty. It was to this that Landon took exception, standing for a dollar convertible into gold when conditions permit.

PREMIUM TOTAL IS $21,339,602

The return showed 6,357 contracts were issued by the annuities branch during that same fiscal year.

Says Implement Returns Are Low

International Company Head Tells Commons Committee About Profits

Ottawa, June 12.—If the farm implement manufacturers could get a return of 8 per cent on their investment they would be satisfied, Charles R. Morrison, president of International Harvester of Canada, told the Commons agriculture committee yesterday evening. That figure had never been realized, he added.

Mr. Morrison, who is also vice-president of the International Harvester Company, the Canadian concern's parent company in Chicago, continued his evidence on the incidence of the tariff on the price of farm machinery. He told Mark C. Senn, Conservative, Haldimand, Ont., that before 1930 about 50 per cent of the Canadian company's sales had been imported from the United States company, but these had decreased considerably when the Canadian company began to manufacture more lines of farm implements.

Of bad debts carried by the company, the Harvester head said, from 75 to 80 per cent matured six years ago.

CAPETOWN VIEWS ON SANCTIONS

Capetown, June 12.—Rt. Hon. Neville Chamberlain's allusion to the idea of continuing sanctions against Italy as "midsummer madness" drew the ire of a section of the South African press today.

The Rand Daily Mail said it looked "very much as though the anti-sanctionists in the cabinet have prevailed over their dissenting colleagues and are now beginning to prepare the public for the removal of all measures against Italy."

The paper said the attitude of the dominions might raise some "awkward difficulties" in view of the insistence of Prime Minister J. B. M. Hertzog and his colleague, General J. C. Smuts, on the importance of maintaining sanctions.

The Cape Times said Mr. Chamberlain's "sudden intervention in the sanctions discussion is as surprising as it is disturbing." Its immediate effect, the paper added, will be "to pave the way for complete humiliation and failure."

The Bloemfontein Friend said the next step must be to abandon the whole idea of trying to achieve the illusion of collective security by unworkable methods embodied in the League covenant.

Quebec

HON. LOUIS ALEXANDRE TASCHEREAU has resigned from the position of Prime Minister of Quebec. His successor is Hon. J. Adélard Godbout, Minister of Agriculture, and there is to be an election on August 15.

The last Conservative Premier of the ancient province was Hon. E. J. Flynn; and as far back as the summer of 1897, Hon. F. G. Marchand took over the reins of office for the Liberal party and formed a government. He was followed by such distinguished Canadians as Parent, Gouin, and, lastly, but not least, Taschereau.

It was on July 8, 1920, that Mr. Taschereau became Premier. He has been an astute politician. His political nomenclature is Liberal, but he himself would hardly admit that he was that kind of a Liberal which had its roots in the interests of the underdog.

The young Liberals in Quebec, if the organization known as "L'Action Libérale Nationale" means anything at all, are the real progressive bloods of the Liberal party that think they have had enough of domination by the "elder statesmen"—who have been in office so long that they appear to have mixed up their understanding of public duty with private interests.

It is noteworthy that the young group of Liberals, in revolt against the Taschereau regime, has been led by the son of the late Sir Lomer Gouin, himself Premier of Quebec for fifteen years, who obviously has sensed the trend of public opinion as it affects the general welfare of the people.

In the background, of course, is the unsavory incident of the former Premier's relative taking interest on the proceeds of governmental investments.

It is all rather sordid—and the time for a show-down in Quebec politics would appear to have arrived.

Landon

IN NOMINATING GOVERNOR LANDON of Kansas for the Presidency of the United States, the Republican party acknowledges the strength of liberal and progressive thought throughout the country. In spite of the party's attacks on the advanced and at times radical legislative trend of the Democrats in power at Washington under Roosevelt, the Republicans, coming down to practical politics, have sensed that the temper of the voters was such that it would be no use in offering them a reactionary.

Governor Landon is rated in American politics as a mild prairie progressive. He bolted the Republican party in 1912 for Theodore Roosevelt. To put him over with the financial interests of the east, he has been labelled the Coolidge of the west. As an administrator he has attained a reputation for economy and sound finance. He has known how farmers struggle with poverty and this has made him a foe of extravagance and waste. His noteworthy achievement was in imposing the budget system and the pay-as-you-go principle on all Kansas counties, municipalities and school districts, making them all face the realities of local government and balance their budgets. As a result, the cost of local government fell from $51.67 per capita in 1932 to $38.01 in 1934. His own state budget, of course, he balanced—as all Kansas governors do—for under hard-headed Kansas law, requiring a plebiscite on bond issues, it is difficult to unbalance it. All has contributed to a Landon reputation which is welcomed nationally in these days of unbalanced budgets.

But, beyond government financing, as someone has said, Landon is as different from Coolidge as Topeka is from Boston. Coolidge was a tight-lipped, frugal Yankee, an exponent of the hands-off-business school, recognizing no change and making no effort to keep the government abreast of change. On the other hand, Landon is one of the friendliest men in public life; he likes people and likes to exchange ideas, and he knows that the world is changing fundamentally. To much of the Roosevelt New Deal legislation he is not opposed. He has said he will not be hostile to whatever form of farm relief emerges from the ruins of the Agricultural Adjustment Act.

It is noteworthy, and it must be disconcerting to those in his party who have been fighting the general trend of social-security enactments at Washington, that Governor Landon, on accepting the nomination yesterday, promptly added a personal declaration for a constitutional amendment, if necessary, to permit state regulation of work and wages. This plank had been omitted from the platform adopted earlier in the day by the convention.

Recently he said: "Our problems have been intensified by the great industrial plutocracy we have built since our last great depression of 1893. New adjustments must be made as a result of the development of machine production in the last quarter century. America bids fair to join the procession of nations of the world in their march toward a new social and economic philosophy. Some say this will lead to socialism, some communism, others fascism. For myself I am convinced that the ultimate goal will be a modified form of individual rights and ownership of property."

"Jimmy" Goes Out

RT. HON. JAMES H. THOMAS, the man who began life as an errand boy and became a minister in the government of Great Britain, has resigned his seat in the British House of Commons. He is accused, and found guilty by a competent tribunal, of giving information as to the contents of the budget—allegedly enabling some of his friends to make money by insuring against an increase in the income tax and the tea tax. Lloyd's took the risk—and Lloyd's lost.

Mr. Thomas goes out under a cloud. In the House of Commons he declared he was innocent. He assured that august assembly that he had not violated his oath of office. The tribunal did not agree. "Jimmy" Thomas, as we already have said in these columns, was a "rough diamond" of the human species. He may have made mistakes; but before his own personal interests he put the interests of those with whom, in his young days, he associated and worked hard. It must have been a sorry moment yesterday when "Jimmy" Thomas left the House of Commons never to enter it again.

The thought occurs, how many men in the British House of Commons, or in any other Parliament, for that matter, could lift up their heads and say, "my record is unblemished?"

Approaching Normal

THE LOAD OF UNSOLD WHEAT in Canada, which has constituted such a burdensome problem, was down to 166,600,000 bushels on May 22. Last August it stood at 215,000,000 bushels. Between August 1, 1935, and May 22, this year, 166,095,876 bushels of Canadian wheat were exported overseas or to the United States. For the corresponding period of 1934-35 the export total was 123,473,450 bushels.

The Bennett-McFarland policy of holding wheat, with its depressing effect on transportation and Canadian business in general, not to mention its destructive effect on our foreign markets, was reversed when the present government assumed office at Ottawa last autumn. Mr. James Murray, who then was made wheat board chairman, set about to cut down the stored surplus by selling Canadian wheat at its world market value. The foregoing figures are the measure of his success. This has been accomplished by no "fire sale" or break in the price. Wheat is selling today at less than seven cents under the price of 84 cents at the start of the crop year last August. The growers have not suffered as the guaranteed price of 87½ cents at Fort William has been continued.

It was thought Mr. Murray would do a good job if he brought the Canadian carryover down to 125,000,000 bushels by July 31, the end of the present crop year. The Food Research Institute of Stanford University, however, now believes he will better this by 15,000,000 to 20,000,000—5,000,000 bushels more were lopped off the total last week—getting the carryover down to around 105,000,000 bushels by that date. This will bring it within range of the 50,000,000 mark which was considered normal before the country came under the holding policy ten years ago. With the Canadian carryover down, the institute predicts the world grain trade will be back to somewhere near normal by the end of July, with world wheat stocks around 665,000,000 bushels, not far above the pre-depression average.

Flying Progress

ALASKAN OFFICIALS, IN AN effort to secure additional airmail and passenger service for the territory, recently produced some interesting facts about the new role of airplanes in territorial development.

In 1929, for instance, Alaska had only eight airplanes. These carried 2,171 passengers, flew 33,000 plane miles, and carried 118,000 pounds of freight and express.

Last year, however, there were seventy-five airplanes in service, which flew 1,600,000 plane miles and carried 13,000 passengers and 1,700,000 pounds of freight and express.

Given these facts, officials insist aviation is due to develop northern territory scores of years faster than the old-time railroad, steamer and dog-sled means of transit. This news is just as vital to northern British Columbia as it is to Alaska and the aviation industry.

Notes

The voice of the people is the one crying: 1. "Give us heavy armament." 2. "Stop making us pay for it."

It took Eamon de Valera, President of the Irish Free State, to do away with an "Upper Chamber." Yet there are some doubts about the stability of his own "Upper Chamber" when it comes to practical business.

One of our mainland contemporaries says, commenting on last Monday's federal election, that "the Liberals have done better than they had any right to expect." It would be interesting to have an explanation of this "profound" opinion.

"Jimmy" Thomas, recently Britain's Colonial Secretary, has gone into political oblivion; but, it would appear, he has taken with him enough of this world's goods to keep him quite comfortable. It is a case of errand boy, down the scale, to the plutocrat.

Loose Ends

The Revolutionaries fear nothing in their arm-chairs—Amelia Bloomer did not foresee the end of her great movement—and a notable plan for teaching the young is advanced here.

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

REVOLUTIONARIES

NO ONE is quite so brave as the parlor revolutionaries of our time. I wonder if you know any of them? Oh, you should have a few revolutionaries among your friends. They are such good company on a dull evening.

So far as I can find, the town is honey-combed with them. Their technique is simple but extremely effective. They invite you to dinner and feed you so well that you are weak and powerless to resist. Then they sit you in a comfortable chair and have revolution at you in dripping chunks.

I don't mean that they are dangerous at all. They do nothing to promote the revolution and the breakdown of society, but they admit they can't do anything to stop it. There must be literally thousands of men and women in this town who have read a book on the state of Europe or the Russian experiment and who now have the immediate future of the world blue-printed and laid out in horrid detail to make your flesh creep.

They leave you there, helpless with food and exhaustion, and they tell you how war is inevitable. In Europe during the next few months and that means the end of capitalism from Vladivostok to Paris. They show by inevitable logic how our own country, based on foreign trade, will go for ruin. They tell you how customers go amash. They go on for hours, and you are so tired that this country will first swing into fascism and then, after years of bitter repression, concentration camps and dictatorships, will go through another violent upheaval into communism. And they point out, with perfect reasoning, that once war starts, all your investments, life insurance and what-not will be worthless. Altogether, it makes a pleasant evening.

But what rouses my admiration is the courage and spirit of the armchair revolutionary. He is not appalled at the prospect. He is delighted. Why, I have heard girls in their teens talk about blood in the streets as if it were going to be some kind of a cocktail party. Young braves whose husbands are underpaid discuss the approaching collapse of capitalism and the erection of the guillotine with a wild laugh. The father of two or three babies will sit there and talk about the coming chaos and general starvation as calmly as if he were discussing the weather.

They have no fear, these armchair anarchists. They belong to the revolution and though every one else may perish they imagine that, by some divine revolutionary dispensation, they will escape unharmed, and this courage of a valiant ignorance is an inspiring sight. Revolution is jolly is you, know how to take it.

AMELIA

A FEW DAYS AGO, Seneca Falls, N.Y., celebrated the anniversary of the 117th anniversary of the birth of Amelia Bloomer. The event passed almost unnoticed by the world. I dare say, indeed, that many people don't even know who Amelia Bloomer was, or what the world owes her. She was the lady who caused an international scandal in 1851 by wearing on the streets a modified Oriental garment like a pair of huge, billowing trousers. People laughed at them and called them Bloomers.

Thus the name of Amelia Bloomer, one of mankind's great but unrecognized benefactors, was immortalized. Every pair of bloomers worn in the world was a monument to her memory, though the wearer didn't know it.

But Amelia, great prophet and emancipator that she was, could not have foreseen the enormous strides that her invention was to make. From her first crude beginnings sprang a vast variety of female attire.

While men still imagine that the trouser is their own special property and the perquisite of their sex, they have shown no imagination with it; they have failed to adapt it to changing conditions and, like all the lower races who are unable to accommodate themselves to change, they have lost their supremacy.

The woman, emancipated by Amelia, has taken the trouser and turned it into infinite variety, and now is the true owner by right of conquest. She wears the pants. Starting with bloomers, she has ended, up to date, at least, with shorts. What next development she will conceive in this inexhaustible field of progress one waits to see with bated breath.

But for all this the real credit goes to Amelia. She is the mother of the modern girl's bathing suit, the flannel slacks; in fact, of all those creations which have made the modern world so beautiful. Probably she can claim credit even for the final perfection of this great movement, for the cult of nudity itself.

It is too bad that Amelia didn't live to see the final success of her life work. If she could see it now one imagines that she would be a little surprised. Probably she would condemn the whole business and launch a campaign for modesty. These emancipations always go far beyond the original emancipator's expectation.

THE YOUNG AGAIN

IN A LETTER to the editor of this newspaper, a gentleman urges school teachers to devote a short time each week to a discussion of alcohol and tobacco, for the benefit of the children. This is a sound idea and should help to train our children in good citizenship.

"You see here," the teacher would say, holding up a bottle of whisky, "one of the cornerstones of our entire economy in Canada. Do you realize, boys and girls, that this whisky, when bought by the honest citizen at outrageous prices and with high taxes pays for your education in great measure? Indeed, were the honest citizen to refuse to buy it we should probably have to close the schools and many hospitals as well."

"You may thank Heaven, boys and girls, that you come from a race of patriots who will never let you down, who will keep on drinking just as long as it is necessary to provide education for the young. Yes, and longer. That is the kind of people we are."

"While your schooling has been paid for by your fathers' continual sacrifice, they do not grudge it in the cause of education and the training of the young. See to it, when you leave school, that you maintain that high ideal which they have set for you. Remember that the generation of boys and girls who come after you are depending on you to train them so that they, in their turn, may take up the burden and drink their sons into culture and good citizenship."

"And remember always, as every liquor advertisement will prove, that there is nothing more healthful than alcohol, if you drink enough. The sooner you start the sooner you will contribute your share to the welfare of your country. I shall now pass this bottle around the classroom and if you will get the glasses, Johnnie, and the soda siphon from the cupboard there, we shall begin the morning lesson in good citizenship."

Other People's Views

DANGERS OF CURE

To the Editor:—I read with great interest J. O. Stinson's letter under the heading, "Children and Cigarettes," in yesterday's Times and agree in part with all that is said. In the proposed anti-tobacco legislation, which, however, which it is suggested teachers should give, I think it would be inadvisable to have the two glasses, one filled with tobacco juice and one with alcohol, as suggested, and have the children drop worms in to see them shrivel up and die.

My main objection is that it would teach the children brutality. Another objection is that the children might tell their mothers of these experiments. Possibly some of the children might be suffering from the childish complaint of worms. Inspired by the success of the experiments, some of the mothers might feed their children alcohol to effect a cure for worms and thus start them on the deadly path of inebriety.

ESQUIMAULT REASSESSMENT

To the Editor:—Regarding the statement in Mr. Goring's Esquimalt election circular that there is a letter on file in the Municipal Hall to the effect that the Ratepayers' Association asked that reassessment of property in Esquimalt be not carried out this year (1935), may I state that this is true, but Mr. Goring omitted to state the reason for the letter. May I give the reason? The provincial government has intimated their intention of holding a complete reassessment of the whole province and consequently any reassessment the Esquimalt Council might make would naturally be wasted as the B.C. government's assessment would take precedence. Therefore, we asked that the council's proposed reassessment be postponed and the cost saved to the municipality.

Every right-thinking ratepayer will see the common sense of this action. (Mrs.) H. WALKER.
837 Burdett Avenue.

ESQUIMAULT BY-ELECTION

To the Editor:—It has been brought to our attention that the Esquimalt Ratepayers' Association are claiming credit for the improvements in our municipality and the subsequent lowering of taxes this year. This is quite contrary to facts as the association did all in their power to stop it, as the following letter to the council last year will show:

"Ratepayers' Association, Esquimalt B.C., August 28, 1935. 'To the Reeve and Council of Esquimalt.'

"Gentlemen:—At the regular monthly meeting of the Ratepayers' Association of Esquimalt held on Wednesday evening, August 21, the following resolution was passed unanimously and ordered to be sent to the Reeve and Council.

"In view of the fact that the B.C. government has announced that they will appoint an assessment board for city and rural municipalities, the $600 allocated by the council for this purpose be not spent until the government have come to a decision."

"Yours faithfully,
"GEORGE ECKTON LLOYD,
"President Ratepayers' Association."

In regard to their complaining of the manner in which the business of the council is conducted, it is common knowledge that the council representative on the council is wholly responsible for any disturbance that takes place, the Reeve and members of the council having to stand such personal jibes and insults that it is very difficult to conduct the business at all. It is very pertinent to point out that these disturbances never took place until this association sent a representative to the council.

We realize that unanimity of opinion cannot be secured on all questions coming up for consideration but we do believe that we should conduct ourselves in a parliamentary manner in trying to find solutions to the very difficult questions that come before us.

Municipal administration at the present time requires careful thought and consideration and the co-operation of all that are interested in its betterment. Unkind and destructive criticism is both unkind and harmful.

BRITISH-ISRAEL THEORIES

To the Editor:—Listening to the broadcast from the Empire Theatre last night, it would appear that in order to put over British-Israelite theories, actual facts must be ruthlessly whittled down to fit the preconceived ideas of the sect.

The speaker mentioned ten dictators who are to rule mankind, and these ten have apparently appeared to confirm "prophecy," although the lecturer was honest enough to admit that he was unable to name all of them. He could, however, put his finger unerringly on three—Hitler, Mussolini and Stalin.

It seems incredible that, at this period of intellectual enlightenment, there should be anyone left who still persists in calling Stalin a dictator. "To fit British-Israelite prophecies, however, this clumsy subterfuge is necessary—otherwise the utterly fantastic idea of lumping together as future allies Socialist Russia and Fascist Germany and Italy could not be camouflaged to harmonize with Bible "prophecy." But seeing that a dictatorship of the proletariat holds sway in the U.S.S.R. it is unfortunate for British-Israel theories that such an alliance would involve, not merely three, but three million dictators in Europe alone!

I would suggest that the lecturer state a little closer to earth, and he would then perhaps discover in the secret understanding between the Nationalist Government of England, Germany and Italy, the three dictatorships necessary to fit his theories. SAGITTARIAN.

PREVIEW OF "NEXT WAR" ACTION SCENE

A thrillingly vivid demonstration of scenes suggestive of the much heralded "next war" was witnessed by military attaches of eight nations who were guests at British tank corps manoeuvres near Lutworth Cove, Dorset, where live shells and machine-gun bullets were used in target practice. A line of medium-sized tanks is pictured firing three-pound guns in realistic fashion while under way.

SUBMIT BRIEF

Counter Argument to Local Real Estate and Civic Authorities Is Made

Taking the reverse position of the arguments advanced by the civic authorities and real estate groups, the Henry George Club of Victoria has circulated the provincial government and members of the B.C. Legislature urging that land taxes be increased and improvement taxes cut down.

The brief states:

"That both province and cities increase taxes on land values and decrease them on improvements, and we strongly urge that municipalities still be allowed to exempt improvements altogether; also that no more British Columbia land be alienated, but leased to land users for what it will bring, with periodical revaluations and corresponding increases in the rental charged."

The brief was presented by Alexander Hamilton, president, and F. W. Davey, secretary, as an answer to representations made by civic and real estate bodies who urged the government in February to consider a shift of taxation lightening the burden on land and throwing it onto improvements.

An effort to improve the traffic situation at the corner of Willows and Cadboro Bay Roads will be made by the Oak Bay Council following a request to this effect from C. V. Milton, of Cranleigh House School. After receiving a report from the Chief of Police on the matter yesterday, the council instructed the clerk to negotiate with Mr. Milton for the purchase of a strip of his property, which would permit of rounding off the intersection and lessen the traffic danger.

What amounts to a feverish excitement in Douglas Street realty is going on at the moment, but the why or wherefore of it is yet unknown. In the last few days there have been several sales of property on that thoroughfare all the way from Flanagan Street to Topas Avenue; other sales are impending and yet other owners, influenced by the prices which have been paid, are holding out till anxious buyers raise the figures of their offers.

In a tame monotonous game of lacrosse at the North Ward Park on Saturday afternoon... the Wards gained another victory over their opponents, the Wests, by a score of 3 to 2. With a little ginger in their play the Wests might have won owing to the absence of one or two of the Wards' best men, and in particular, Lou MacDonald, but none of the green shirts, with the exception of Leo Sweeney, Cars and Clute, seemed to care whether they scored or not.

Aboard the steamer Princess Adelaide, when she arrived in port on Saturday evening from Vancouver, were three Japanese seamen who were lost from the sailing schooner Tosa Maru in the north.

Liquor Store In
Oak Bay Rumored

Ministerial Association
Lodges Protest With Council

Rumor that the establishment of a government liquor store was proposed in the new Oak Bay Theatre building near the Municipal Hall on Oak Bay Avenue, brought a protest from the Victoria Ministerial Association to a meeting of the municipal council yesterday.

Under the signature of Rev. A. M. Acheson-Lyle the association lodged a "strong and unanimous protest" against a liquor store being opened there.

Councillor Richard Angus said the protest had only been based on a rumor and in any event the council had no jurisdiction in the matter.

The council, however, forwarded a copy of the letter to the Liquor Control Board accompanied by a request that the council be notified if any such action should be contemplated.

Victoria Man Re-elected
President of Island Organization; Convention Deals With Roads, Radio and Fisheries

Qualicum Beach, June 12.—W. T. Straith of Victoria was re-elected president of the Associated Boards of Trade of Vancouver Island and Port Alberni was chosen convention city for 1937 at the close of the annual two-day meeting of the association here yesterday.

Mr. Straith had asked to be permitted to retire from the office, but numerous delegates pressed him to stay.

Mayor W. C. Hamilton of Port Alberni was named vice-president and W. C. Ironside was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

ROAD IMPROVEMENT

Need for better island roads should be stressed at the right time and certainly not when the tourist season is in full swing, as done last year, Mr. Straith said, in opening the business session. He contended that, as a result of too much talk by islanders everywhere about the road conditions, tourists decided against traveling up or down the island. Application for road work should be made to provincial government members and Minister of Public Works before the budget was drafted, Mr. Straith told the gathering.

The speaker drew attention to the happy relationship between island boards and to the sincere desire of the Victoria body to co-operate and assist other boards.

Thirteen resolutions were considered, nine of them passing.

MUNICIPAL AID

Delegates favored provincial relief for municipalities; creation of a public utilities commission for the island; continuance of federal grants for fish hatcheries; establishment of a powerful radio station on Vancouver Island to be linked with the Canadian Radio Commission network; adjustment of British Columbia radio wave lengths to avoid interference by American stations; excluding purse seine or gill net fishing in the Campbell River area, thus saving tree and coho salmon in Duncan Bay for sports fishermen; requesting the provincial government to earmark some moneys allocated for trail building to be used on trails leading to tourist attractions already known.

ROAD PLAN APPROVED

A resolution was passed commending the federal and provincial governments for their decision to have the Trans-Canada Highway terminate at Tofino, on the west coast of the island.

By resolution, Brigadier-General Noel Money and the Qualicum Board of Trade were thanked for their hospitality and accommodation.

Delegates held an extensive discussion on whether or not a highway commission would be beneficial, thus saving arguments advanced by both sides. Notice of motion not having been posted at an early enough date, this resolution was referred back to the Duncan board, whence it came.

STEAMER SCHEDULES

Up-island delegates declined to support a Nanaimo resolution asking a change in steamship times, and a resolution from Tofino seeking reduction from $3.50 to $2 in fireman licenses was referred back to the Tofino board. E. D. Thwaites, Qualicum Beach, explained licenses for farmers of the island were only $2 and for non-farmers $3.50.

Leslie Osborne, past president of the Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce and vice-president of the British Columbia Junior Chambers of Commerce, appealed to delegates to sound out the possibilities of starting junior bodies in their communities.

An invitation to attend the annual fishing competitions at Brentwood Bay on Sunday, being held by the Victoria and Saanich Anglers' Association, was extended to delegates by W. O. Wallace.

E. Sanderson invited them to attend the Duncan Sweet Pea Festival on July 1 and 2.

SEE NEW STATE

At the conclusion of the session delegates visited the new log chalet

and waterfront estate of Senator A. D. McKee, near Qualicum Beach.

Delegates present were W. T. Straith, Harold Husband, Mr. Osborne, Frank Partridge, George Beck and T. E. Watkins, Victoria; Reeve Crouch and W. O. Wallace, Saanich; D. Mason Hurley, E. E. Hawking and C. M. Robertson, Malahat; Major L. C. Rattray, R. Sanderson and J. B. Creighton, Duncan; F. S. Cunliffe, P. Cowman, P. C. Grant and W. W. R. Mitchell, Nanaimo; Charles Wing, W. Russell Taylor and George Wilson, Parksville; General Money, Gordon Money and E. D. Thwaites, Qualicum Beach; R. N. Carey, R. U. Hurford, Theed Pearce and C. S. Wood, Courtenay-Comox; Cecil Henry Fitzgerald and S. E. Master, Campbell River; Mayor Hamilton, Rev. G. Stevenson and J. A. Grieder, Port Alberni.

TO CANDIDATE

Esquimalt Ratepayers Hold
Meeting in Favor of
Charles Halthwaite

The candidacy of Charles Halthwaite, police commissioner, for the vacant seat on the Esquimalt Council in the by-election tomorrow received support yesterday evening at a meeting held by the Esquimalt Ratepayers' Association, sponsors of Mr. Halthwaite, in the Queen of Peace Hall. Councillor Frederick G. Eaton spoke of the need for men open to new ideas on the council, claiming the present council was too satisfied with old methods. He mentioned resolutions which had been put forward at council meetings by himself and other association-sponsored councillors and which had been refused, adding that there was a feeling against the association on the part of the majority of the councillors.

The purpose of the association, said Mr. Eaton, was to get down to business and stop bickering.

Frank H. Rees, president of the association, made reference to a circular sent out by Philip S. Going, the only other candidate in the by-election. Mr. Rees said this letter gave the impression that the Ratepayers' Association had been against a municipal re-assessment last year. He claimed this was only a half truth, the association having only taken this action when there was mention of a re-assessment being carried out by the provincial government.

ANTAGONISM DEPLORED

Mrs. A. L. Harrison, vice-president of the association, deplored the antagonism between Councillor T. Harry Hodgson and Reeve Alexander Lockley.

Mrs. H. Walker spoke of Councillors Hodgson and Eaton as honest, upright men, and expressed the confidence that Mr. Halthwaite would prove another.

"This election is a test and a challenge to the association," declared Mrs. Walker.

Mr. Halthwaite criticized Reeve Lockley for not putting Councillors Hodgson on any of the municipal committees. "He should have been finance committee chairman," he added.

Arrange Traffic
For Golf Tourney

In order to facilitate traffic movement along Beach Drive during the forthcoming $3,000 open golf tournament, the Oak Bay Council yesterday acceded to a request from the Victoria Golf Club to block off that section of Beach Drive between Newport Avenue and Premier Pattullo's residence during the tournament.

Northbound traffic will be stopped at Newport Avenue and diverted to Margate Avenue, where it will be possible to return to the Drive, while southbound motorists will detour at Margate Avenue along Newport Avenue.

Police will be stationed at both points and additional men will control parking within the restricted section, where it will not be permissible for persons not connected with the tournament to park their cars.

Sufferers from all forms of stomach trouble have cause to be deeply grateful to a remedy which is now being used in leading English hospitals. It has brought relief to thousands even after years of suffering.
One of many, many cases reported is that of Mr. F., a railwayman. "It's no joke to be in a signal box all night when you're suffering agonies from gastritis," he writes. "I did for five years. A month ago I was put to bed. The pain was so bad I couldn't stand it. Then I took Maclean Brand Stomach Powder and after the first dose I felt better. Now I can eat anything."
If you suffer from indigestion, gastritis, heartburn, flatulence, acidity, dyspepsia, or bad stomach trouble, take this healing powder. It soothes your stomach at once, and strengthens it so that you are quickly relieved from the pains and distress you are suffering now. But be sure you get the genuine Maclean Brand Stomach Powder—the powder that is used so widely in English hospitals and that is recommended by doctors. Look for the identifying signature, "ALEX. C. ## GIVING PARASITE PLANE A LIFT

Aviation's first aerial parasites, sketched above, are being created at Rochester, England, for the Imperial Airways in an attempt to surmount difficulties that have blocked long range, non-stop airmail flights. Too heavily loaded to be able to take off under its own power, a 2,000-mile airmail ship is mounted atop a huge flying boat, designed to help lift it into the air. After reaching cruising altitude, the lower unit will return to the airport for duty as a passenger carrier on shorter flights.

LUCK HELPS GOOD PLAY

Two Suit Finesses Work But Declarer Had to Plan Them Properly to Assure Slam Contract

By Wm. E. McKenney

Secretary, American Bridge League
Of course, North and South should not have reached a small slam contract on today's hand. There are too many vital cards missing, the unfavorable location of which might easily wreck the contract. But South was a confirmed optimist, and North held an ace-king suit, besides.

Had the contract been defeated, probably there would have been one of those sharp interchanges of comment between the players, but as it was made by very brilliant play by South, it strengthened the partnership morale and helped them to go on and win top score in the duplicate event in which the hand was dealt. South was misled by North's two no trump response to his opening bid. It was, of course, too strong, but even if it had been much sounder than it was, the small slam was an extremely high contract to reach.

Solution to Previous Contract Problem

The opening lead was the queen of hearts, which South won with the ace. South now led the jack of clubs and overtook with the king in dummy, to provide, if necessary, an

Authors Talk Over Their Convention

Victoria Branch Discusses Summer Activities; Pays Tribute to B. C. Nicholas

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Wharton entertained members of the Victoria and Island branch of the Canadian Authors' Association at their home, 2495 Ertan Avenue.

Miss M. Eugenie Perry presided over the short business meeting, which included correspondence concerning the annual convention of the Canadian Authors' Association, to be held in Vancouver next month, and the part Victoria is to play in the entertainment of the delegates coming to Victoria on July 17. General satisfaction was expressed at the prospect of hearing the national president, Dr. Fehlm Edgar, Dr. Pratt and Sir Charles G. D. Roberts, who will give addresses while in Victoria. The delegates and local members will be tea guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Butchart. Other entertainments are being arranged by the local committee.

Under the convener'ship of Mrs. Doris E. Fene, a musicale will be given at the home of Mrs. J. O. Cameron. The date will be announced later.

Donald A. Fraser spoke with appreciation of the late B. C. Nicholas, whom he had known since early boyhood, and of whose fine qualities and gifts of leadership Victoria had had so many striking evidences. That Mr. Nicholas had been a friend of writers and had been deeply interested in the cultivation of Canadian literature, made his loss the more deeply felt by literary organizations. Mr. Fraser said. The members stood in silence in tribute to him and a letter will be sent by the branch to his mother.

A one-act play, "Uncle Cupid," by Lewis Wharton, dramatized under the direction of Mrs. Myrtle E. Lane, was given. The several parts were read by Lewis Wharton as Harry Bentley, Valerie Swan as Lois Marshall, and H. L. Swan as Jack Saunders.

Miss Phyllis Deaville, accompanied by Miss Audrey Wood, sang "Flowers of Spring," "A Picture" and "The Daisy."

Mrs. Caroline D'Aguiar Henderson read an original monologue, in which her Irish characterization gave much amusement.

Miss Faith Breamer recited Sir Edwin Arnold's "Mary Magdalene at the Sepulchre," and a Cockney number.

Rev. E. F. Church gave a thoughtful address on "Poetry," which he said he had found to be the great God-given outlet for suppressed emotions.

Memories of Title Fight Recalled

Canadian Press

London, June 12. — One of the most interesting matrimonial engagements of the present season is that of Sir Anthony Doughty-Tichborne of Tichborne Park, Hampshire, to Miss Antonia Snagge, one of the twin daughters of Sir Harold and Lady Snagge.

Sir Harold is a director of Barclay's Bank. The bridegroom-to-be, whose coming-of-age last year was celebrated by a salute of guns in Tichborne Park, succeeded his father in 1930. The baronetcy is one of the oldest still in existence, dating from 1620, Sir Anthony being the fourteenth baronet.

One of the most celebrated trials in English criminal annals arose some sixty years ago, when a butcher from Wags-Wags named Castro or Orion, put himself forward as Sir Roger Tichborne, son and heir of the previous baronet, who had disappeared some time previously.

The impostor was actually acknowledged as her son for a time by the Dowager Lady Tichborne. The litigation and subsequent criminal proceedings extended over several years, and finally resulted in Orion receiving fourteen years penal servitude. He afterwards published a confession, but still later withdrew it. His obscure grave in a London cemetery bears today the legend that it contains the body of Sir Roger Tichborne.

Your Baby And Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER EIDRED

The very word constipation is frightening to most mothers, who lose their good common sense when a baby shows the slightest evidence of it. Yet a missed movement is not an indication of constipation. The rhythms of evacuation differ in different individuals even from birth. Some babies, however well fed, do not have but one movement every two or three days, others may have several movements daily. One may be as natural a condition as the other. It depends largely on the baby and whether everything else is as it should be.

WHAT TO WATCH
Other things being equal—gains in weight, diet, etc.—constipation, if present—and this means a hard, dry, infrequent stool—should be dealt with through changes in diet. Some babies may develop constipation on too rich a milk, others on skimmed milk. Some may be constipated on boiled milk—others who suffer from some milk sensitivity will develop that condition when milk is unboiled. Too much sugar is as apt to cause constipation as too little, though this latter is a common cause, in bottle-fed babies. None of these situations would in any way show improvement simply because of one's choice of some pill or powder or syrup.

LET NATURE DO IT
Our leaflet, "Common Causes of Constipation," may help the mother to decide what in her own baby's diet could bear improvement. It may be had for a self-addressed and three-cent stamped envelope sent to Myrtle Meyer Eidred, of the "Your Baby and Mine" department of this newspaper.

There never seems to be any good reason why we should hasten to force laxatives on a baby. We should be so convinced of the baby's ability to excrete the refuse of its food as it is to digest it in the first place. The process is the same, only we can see the results of one and not of the other. Mothers, counselled by wise doctors, who tell them to let nature alone, find to their astonishment that it works. It is only our fear of constipation which leads us, so often to deal with it directly.

OAKLANDS Y.P.S.

Oaklands Y.P.S. held their fortnightly meeting on Wednesday night. Interesting missionary papers were read by four of the young ladies.

A paper on the life of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Hopkins of Manchung, China, telling of their work in the military hospitals and the printing of Chinese literature was read by Irene Barnes. Margaret Inrig's paper told of the encouraging work of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Peterkin of Barbados. The third paper, by Anna Morris, was on the "Triumph of John and Betty Stam," the C.I.M. missionaries. The story of the capture and release of Mr. Hayman and Mr. Boshardt by the Chinese brigands was given by Kathleen Hopkins. Anna and Kay Morris sang as a duet, "The Lord is My Shepherd" and the scripture portion was read by Marjory Barnes.

Recommends Honoring New Voters

Council of Women Wants Standard of Citizenship Increased

Canadian Press
Halifax, June 12.—The voters' rights of citizenship should be increased by honoring the coming of age of young voters, by ceremonies at the time of naturalization and by efforts to have registration of voters and attendance at polls, the National Council of Women was told today.

Mrs. Rex Eaton, Vancouver, who reported for the committee on citizenship, made the recommendations.

Qualified women should be encouraged to become candidates for public office, and the standard of citizenship could be increased also by supporting those things which made for the enrichment of the whole of life, she said.

A call for leaders to guide the work of adult education was sounded before the council today by Miss Geneva Misener, Edmonton, convener of the committee on education.

"Continuing the programme instituted last year, we have concentrated on the organization of study groups as the most effective means to stimulate the interests of the societies organized for some other specific purpose," Miss Misener said.

"Above all it is apparent we need leaders to guide the work of groups and books and other materials for study and discussion."

For towns and cities with libraries, the local council and affiliated societies should make an insistent demand for books containing information necessary for intelligent citizenship, she said. Elsewhere some scheme for extension of traveling libraries should be sponsored, the convener added.

Crowds Flock To Fashion Parade

Store Packed With Visitors to See Wide Variety of Beautiful Gowns on Living Models

Crowds of visitors throughout the day flocked to the dining-room of the store of David Spencer Ltd., yesterday to the fashion parade, staged in an enchanting garden setting. Living models displayed beautiful gowns for smart occasions, cocktail gowns, frocks for garden parties, sports wear, dresses for the beach, all accompanied by specially-designed hats and headgear. The dining-room had been transferred into a summer bower, with the effective arrangement of floral screens, hanging baskets of flowers, hammocks and gay garden umbrellas.

While tea was being served to the strains of lilting orchestral music, the models wended their way among the guests, displaying with artistry their dresses, pausing to answer graciously questions asked by guests, acknowledging the applause that greeted many of the creations, and furthering the illusion of a garden party.

The show was repeated this afternoon, and on each day a large number had to be refused attendance on account of lack of space.

Want Cans Standardized

Halifax, June 12.—The standard net weight of a can of fruit, vegetables or any foodstuffs should be stamped plainly on the outside of the container, the National Council of Women decided yesterday. "Middle sizes" were misleading, the delegates claimed and grocers would like a standardizing of the "in-between" can themselves. The resolution was moved on behalf of the Vancouver local council.

"Folly and Farewell"

By MARIE BLIZARD

BEGIN HERE TODAY

LINDA BOURNE, twenty years old, pretty and socially prominent in the little town of Newtown, is almost penniless after the sudden death of her father.

She becomes friendly with PETER GARDINER, political reporter, and shows him a scenario she has written. Peter gets Linda's job as society reporter.

DIX CARTER with whom Linda is in love, goes abroad for a year. His letters are for between and Linda tries to forget him. She becomes engaged to Peter, but postpones the date of the wedding.

HONEY HARMON, film actress, comes to Newtown on a "personal appearance" tour. She has a severe cold and goes to the local hospital. Peter interviews her, tells her about a play he has written.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER IX

Linda inspected herself carefully in the mirror, and spoke with sharp sarcasm. "Well, Miss Bourne, you certainly are a fascinating woman. What is it that you have, my girl, that ties men to you with such utter devotion?"

She gave an angry glance at the old-fashioned clock on the mantel, then, and went back to her book. It was the newest best-seller, but for all the attention she was able to give it, it might have been a statistical report of taxes in 1845.

The clock struck 11 and Linda closed her book with a bang. Definitely she was not waiting up. She wouldn't wait until that hour for any man. And what right did Peter P. Gardiner have to treat her so rudely? He had distinctly said that he would arrive at 9 o'clock. He hadn't, and he hadn't telephoned. She could get along very well without him. If he never saw him again it would be all right!

Nevertheless, she went to the front door, opened it and peered down the street before she went upstairs.

"I'm acquiring the bad habit of talking to myself," she said coldly to herself as she mounted the stairs. And then it came—"Movie star!"

The "movie star," Miss Honey Harmon, appeared clearly in Linda's mind. Miss Honey Harmon gazing adoringly into Peter Gardiner's eyes as she snuggled up to him in her car. Linda wished she hadn't seen them that afternoon. Since it looked as though Peter were going to be another memory in her life, Linda wished that she hadn't seen him last acting like a love-sick schoolboy.

Of course she'd have to see him again, she thought, brushing her hair savagely. She'd have to see him again at the office. At that moment the blade, her career, the limitations of her life, presented a drab prospect, and she tried to look ahead at what the years might hold for her. True she hadn't been sure she wanted to marry Peter. She loved him in a way, but from the moment that she had promised to marry him, she had felt she was doing it to make him happy.

She laughed then, but not very lightly. Make men happy? What was the matter with women? Linda was only twenty, and the only two men she had given any affection to had let her down. First Dix and now Peter. The strength of her affection for Peter lay in her belief in his character. And he had gone running off with this blond little movie actress.

He was probably holding Honey's hand at the moment and eating up her words, feeling like an irresistible male. Linda wished she lived in a world of women.

Peter Gardiner wasn't eating up Honey Harmon's words, but he was hanging on them. What Honey had said to him this night was the most important thing in his life at the moment. For nearly ten days since Honey Harmon had come to Newtown Peter had been dancing attendance on her, and since 5 that afternoon, since he had told her that he had a play he wanted her to read, he had been waiting for this moment.

Hadn't Holben told him to "try Hollywood" with his play? He hadn't intended it for pictures, but when Peter dropped a golden-haired opportunity, in the person of Honey Harmon, but two inches from his lap, who was he to refuse it?

It meant everything to him, and everything meant Linda. If Honey liked the play as a vehicle for herself and would buy it, he could have Linda. There would be money enough to support a wife.

He tried to talk about it in the afternoon and he tried again during dinner and when finally Honey demanded to see the manuscript immediately, he brought it forth and forgot to telephone Linda. When he realized that Linda was waiting, he was sure that he could explain to her.

An exceedingly pretty woman appeared on her alabaster brow as Honey pored over the pages of Peter's play. She curled up in a mound of pillows and assumed pose 41 as she perused page after page and Peter smoked cigarette after cigarette, not daring to interrupt the train of thought. If there were any, there was.

"But Peter—how he hated to be called Peter—it isn't me!"

"Oh, darling! Honey, the deep one, rose from her pillows and touched him lightly on the cheek. "You really do know me, don't you?"

She ran her hand through her curls, placed a cigarette in an ivory holder and glided across the room. She looked like a woman who is deeply troubled and must disclose something that can be disclosed only to a trusted friend.

"You see I can't be what I really am. My public wants me to be something entirely different." Her eyes pleaded with Peter to understand.

He didn't. He knew Honey's pictures and managed to point this out gently.

"No, you don't understand. I'm just a little pawn to my producers. You never can tell what they are going to do, but before I left Hollywood I was asked to play today and tomorrow."

"I think it's grand, Pete, and I'm sure you'll sell it. You ought to be in Hollywood."

Pete didn't tell her what he thought of Hollywood. He said nothing, and whenever Pete said nothing Honey always found something to say, particularly if the subject had been herself.

"The real reason I'm on my way east is to find a play. I do wish you had another. What my producers want is to cast me in something about a little working girl," she sighed.

"It seems that the public is more interested in working girls than glamorous ladies these days. Of all things, they want me to find a play about a stenographer. Something where there is a big bad boss and..."

Honey had more than that to say, but when she arrived at the boss part, Pete was on his feet, a new light in his eye and his hand in his hand.

"Honey," he said, "I have not another play! And it's about a stenographer and two big bad bosses only one isn't bad..."

"Two?" Honey asked.

"One a Menjou and one a Gable," he promised.

"But I must see it!" Honey exclaimed.

Pete was already on his way to the door. "It's down at the office. I'll be back with it in ten minutes."

One hour and ten minutes later Linda sat up in bed and pulled the cord on her bed-lamp. Below the bell was peeping insistently. She drew a robe over her nightgown, thrust her feet into slippers and went to the window.

"Who's there?" she called.

"Linda, come down and let me in. I've wonderful news for you," Pete called back to her.

"I'll not come down, and you have nothing to say that would interest me. Good night, Mr. Gardiner."

Linda shut the window with an unmistakable bang.

The bell pealed again.

"He'll wake the neighbors if he keeps that up," Linda said as she trotted down the stairs and opened the door.

"In addition to being the rudest..."

"Listen, Linda, I can explain. I've been with Honey Harmon all evening..."

"I guessed that," she said coldly.

"...and she's bought the scenario."

"What scenario?" asked Linda, startled into forgetting her anger for the moment.

"Yours!"

Broader Plans For Workless Advocated

Health and Insurance Schemes Should Embrace Intellectual Workers, Women Claim

Canadian Press

Halifax, June 12.—Maximum working hours in industry and commerce should be so distributed as to allow at least one and a half days' weekly rest, and these intervals should be continuous wherever possible, to a so-called English week-end, the National Council of Women urged yesterday.

The forty-third annual convention also felt that in view of the widespread unemployment among intellectual workers, national health and unemployment insurance schemes should be widened in their scope.

The two points were contained in a resolution adopted by the International Council of Women, passed by the convention.

Increasing difficulty was experienced by women over the age of thirty years, in retaining or obtaining employment, another point of the same resolution said. It urged the establishment of loan funds and training schemes to enable such women to qualify themselves for entry into new occupations.

TO AID YOUTH

Immediate measures for the aid of the unemployed youth, just out of high school, and the older unemployed women, were advocated by the conveners of the standing committee on trades and professions.

In her report, Miss Eva T. McKivror of Winnipeg, suggested courses in which would be taught the rudiments of ethnology, history of civilization, hygiene, personal and social duties, and national and international civics, so helpful in their direction.

As governor of the committee on natural resources and industry, Mrs. George Bell of Regina, reported a model of steady improvement in Canada's industry. She drew her conclusion from the reports presented by her councils in nineteen cities and towns from Halifax to Vancouver.

A resolution which requested the National Council to petition the Federal Parliament to enact that willful desertion for four years constituted grounds for divorce, was referred to Judge Helen G. Magill of Vancouver, convener of the committee on laws concerning women and children, for pronouncement.

Other resolutions passed included those urging the International Council to promote an inquiry into lack of agreement between the various laws that deal with children in one and the same country, and calling upon the provincial governments to forbid the sale of cocaine, except on a physician's prescription.

Mrs. Bishop gave an interesting summary of the progress of medical work in the various mission stations. During the evening, Miss Edna Middleton gave a delightful piano solo. A social half-hour and refreshments concluded the meeting.

Centennial W.M.S.—On Monday the Centennial Women's Missionary Society met at the home of the president, Mrs. Farquhar, Beach Drive; Mrs. Saunby presiding. Mrs. Saunby introduced Mrs. Henderson, a presbyterial officer, formerly of Duncan, who is now residing in Victoria. Treasurer, supply, temperance and Christian stewardship secretaries gave good reports. Fine reports on hospital visitation were given by Miss Tranter and Mrs. Mitchell. Miss Baker, president of Metropolitan auxiliary, was guest speaker. Inspired by the season she gave a much-appreciated address on "The Message of the Flowers." Miss Baker was warmly thanked by Mrs. Saunby. Very fittingly Mrs. Farquhar then presented Mrs. McKenna with a sheaf of beautiful roses, accompanied by warm and affectionate words, wishing her Godspeed on her long journey and every success in the future. The offering was received and mite boxes opened. The meeting was closed by a hymn. Refreshments were served and a social half-hour followed.

Baxter Impressed By Greenness Here

Screen Star Sits in Empress Hotel Gardens and Talks of Life and Work; Not Much of a Sight-seer; Likes Tennis and Fishing

"Down in California in another month our grass will be burned up and we come here and find the grass and the trees so green. There is such freshness. It's worked wonders already with Mrs. Baxter. She's pepped up wonderfully since we arrived. She said she didn't care if she never went back to Hollywood," said Warner Baxter, famed star of the screen, as he sat in the sunshine on the lawn of the Empress Hotel yesterday afternoon.

He had never been to Canada before—in fact, he had never been out of the United States—and he was keenly anticipating several weeks on Vancouver Island. He seemed happy as a schoolboy at a circus. He had come in search of fish and to play tennis, and he asked all sorts of questions about these sports. Principally, he wants to rest and relax and catch up on his reading, for he made five pictures in a row and he said he had developed a bad case of the "jitters," and just felt he had to get away from the movie colony.

POOR TOURIST
"I can be away from Hollywood until the first of August," he said, "and if I like it on the island I'll stay here. I'm not much of a sight-seer. I'm a very poor tourist. I like to find a place and stay there a while, if I like it. Then I like to move on again."

Mr. Baxter has a delightful personality. He speaks a little, and looks a little like an English actor. In fact, many people take him for an Englishman.

"I think that is because I was born in the middle west, where they roll their 'r's," he said, "and perhaps because I have played on the Boston stage."

He was dressed conservatively yesterday, in a brown suit, with a blue and white striped shirt and a brown tie, with yellow and red polka dots. Blue wool socks and black shoes—in need of a shine after his drive from Sidney—completed his ensemble. His hair, wavy and quite thick, is graying at the temples and he has a small moustache.

"Thanks, I will have a Canadian cigarette," he said to a news camera man yesterday. "Sweet Caporal—I used to smoke them as a kid. I'd buy them on a street corner, two for a penny."

MARRIED TWENTY-ONE YEARS
Warner Baxter and his wife, the former Winnifred Byron of the New York stage, have been married for twenty-one years—which is something of a record in Hollywood's film colony.

He said it was his belief that a struggle for existence helped to bring a man and wife together and to cement their union.

"I think a struggle helps to hold you together," he said. "We had such a struggle when we were on the stage."

"Take two people with careers. They both come home in the evening tired out and they fight and quarrel. If my wife thinks anything at all of married life she will stay out of my films—and she has stayed out so far."

A lady reporter asked Mr. Baxter if he had any children.

"No, unfortunately," he replied.

LIKES VICTORIA

WARNER BAXTER
Taken by The Times cameraman in the gardens of the Empress Hotel yesterday afternoon.

"You can't have children when you are on the road, traveling all the time."

Mr. Baxter was much interested when told of the drama festivals which have become so popular in Canada in recent years. He said he thought such festivals must be an excellent training ground for future stars of the screen. He explored the setback suffered by the legitimate stage and said it did not have a comeback pretty soon the screen would suffer, for there was no training ground for the screen quite like the stage. He said the younger artists felt they had no real training ground.

Mr. Baxter said he hoped he had not run out on the press. He understood he was expected on the scene, Emma Alexander and later on the direct steamer from Seattle, and it looked, he admitted, as if he had been running away from the press.

"I never like to run out on the press," he said. "I know some of my profession are like that."

He and Mrs. Baxter had a leisurely lunch in the hotel dining-room, and Mrs. Baxter then retired to her room, the star going out into the garden for his interview, although he said he wanted to "freshen up and shave."

He had stayed in a noisy hotel the night before, he said, and hardly had any sleep.

Mr. Baxter admitted he had a weakness for reading, but nothing in particular.

"I'm not allowed to get too stale," he said. "Mrs. Baxter is a great reader and she sees that I read the latest books."

Mr. Baxter would not be drawn into a discussion regarding the relative merits of English and American films. He said he had seen a number of them at his home in Bellair, near Beverly Hills.

"We are fortunate, or lucky enough, to have a projection room in our home," he said, modestly, "and we see most of our pictures there."

The five pictures which Baxter made in a row were "Robin Hood of Eborac," "King of Burlesque," "The Prisoner of Shark Island," "The Road to Glory" and "To Mary with Love," in which he starred with Myrna Loy. He said he enjoyed making "Shark Island" for it "contained some of our history and you really felt you were doing something."

When he returns to Hollywood he will start work on "The Last Slave." The interview was not the least hurried. Baxter seemed to enjoy it as much as the reporter.

"I think I'll go and take a nap," he said when it was finished. "I'm afraid I haven't told you anything at all. If anything occurs to you just give me a ring or drop around."

HIS DOUBLE
With Mr. and Mrs. Baxter was young Frank McGrath, who "doubles" for the star. Off the screen they are not a great deal alike, but when made up for work even the directors have difficulty in telling them apart. Both are the same build, naturally, but McGrath is darker.

It is said that McGrath approached Baxter one day in Hollywood about six years ago as the actor came out of a drug store and said: "They tell me I look like you and I'd like to double for you." Baxter was impressed and McGrath has been his double and close friend ever since.

HOSPITAL TO MARK EVENT

Diamond Jubilee of St. Joseph's Hospital to Be Celebrated on June 16

Last year marked the sixtieth anniversary of the founding of St. Joseph's Hospital and the thirty-fifth anniversary of the opening of the St. Joseph's Training School of Nursing. June 16 next has been chosen to celebrate the diamond anniversary of this event. Preparation is being made for the solemn Pontifical High Mass in St. Andrew's Cathedral, at which Bishop Gerald C. Murray, of Saskatoon, and formerly of Victoria, will preach the sermon.

Luncheon will be served at St. Joseph's Hospital for the local and visiting clergy. In the afternoon, Benediction will be given in the chapel of St. Ann's Convent, the first Catholic Cathedral in Victoria.

St. Joseph's Hospital in its inception was the dream of Bishop Demers, but was left to his successor, Archbishop Charles J. Seghers. To see the dream realized, the Sisters of St. Ann, who since 1858 had been conducting a boarding and day school in Victoria, frequently extended their works of mercy to the sick. Recognizing the need of an organized hospital in Victoria, they decided to the request of the Hon. Dr. John S. Heintzen, and prepared to undertake the work. In 1867, St. Joseph's Hospital was opened, affording accommodation for thirty-five patients.

In 1868 and 1869 additions to the original hospital were built. In 1909 the School of Nursing was opened. The Humboldt wing was built in 1908, and finally in 1929 the surgical and maternity unit completed the hospital as it stands today.

"Vernon Villa" was acquired in 1926 as an annex for the treatment of tuberculous patients. The ideal place of rest is set in a garden where sunshine and fresh air, coupled with scientific treatment, bring health and strength to many. In 1930 the Nurses' Residence was built.

LADIES' AUXILIARIES
St. Joseph's Ladies' Auxiliary and Alumnae Association were formed in 1920 and in 1927 the Junior Auxiliary was organized. The Ladies' Auxiliary to Vernon Villa was organized in 1932.

A souvenir publication has just been issued by the hospital, commemorating thirty-five years of training for student nurses.

The booklet is profusely illustrated with portraits of pioneer clergy and medical men.

"Two Fairy Godmothers to St. Joseph's Nurses," are shown to be Mrs. Angus Campbell and Mrs. Alex. McDermott, whose pictures appear in the same page as the list of bursaries and their donors. Special pages are given to the grateful acknowledgments of the Sisters of St. Ann to clergy, medical men, hospital board of management, Ladies' Auxiliary, Junior Auxiliary, Vernon Villa Auxiliary, the Alumnae, and to the generous public for their interest and support.

A complete list of all the graduate nurses of St. Joseph's Hospital by classes from 1902 to 1935 inclusive, with their present addresses, fills several pages, together with a list of "Nurses who served their country overseas."

Auditorium Is Now Church Hall
The old Oaklands School auditorium which has served the school for many years has been moved to the vacant lot by St. Alban's Church. This has been made possible by the generosity of the Victoria School Board and will prove of great value to the church life of St. Alban's.

The old building will in future be known as St. Alban's Hall and will be used for social purposes in connection with the church and it is hoped for week-day activities for the children. The money for the work of moving it was raised by the parishioners of St. Alban's and two generous friends of the parish.

The hall will be ready for inspection tonight, when the public is invited to take a gift for the annual fair which will be held next Wednesday, St. Alban's Day, on the church grounds and in the hall.

The priest in charge, Rev. F. W. Weaver, takes the opportunity of expressing thanks of the parishioners to the school board, the city officials who have been so ready to help, and to all who have contributed.

CARDINAL HAD ACTIVE VISIT

His Eminence Saw Much of Victoria and Met Many People in Few Hours

Greatly impressed with the beauties of Victoria and pleased that he had come here, if only for a few hours, His Eminence Jean Marie Rodrique, Cardinal Villeneuve, Archbishop of Quebec, returned at midnight to Vancouver, where this afternoon he officially opened the first Diocesan Eucharistic Congress ever held in western Canada.

His Eminence had a busy time in Victoria. He arrived on the afternoon boat from Vancouver and in eight hours saw a great deal of Victoria, inspected Roman Catholic institutions in the city and met a large number of people.

Assembled to greet him on the wharf were Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance, representing the provincial government; Mayor Leeming; Brigadier D. J. McDonald, D.S.O., district officer commanding at Work Point Barracks; Commander C. T. Beard, R.C.N., commander-in-charge of the Esquimalt Naval Barracks; and Rev. J. H. MacDonald, Bishop of Victoria and members of his clergy.

VISITED SCHOOLS
From the steamer the cardinal and his suite drove immediately to St. Ann's Academy, where the schoolgirls, smart in their blue and white uniforms, and the sisters were drawn up on the main staircase to greet him. He then proceeded to St. Louis College and met the boys and the Irish Christian Brothers. At both schools he spoke briefly, his humorous remarks being greatly appreciated by the children. He gave them his official blessing and left amid their cheers.

His Eminence was duly appreciative of the sunshine which Victoria suddenly provided for her distinguished visitor, especially as it was the first sunshine he had seen since arriving at the coast.

SAW BUTCHART GARDENS
Following his visits to the schools he drove out to the Butchart Gardens and made a lengthy visit there, and on returning to the city called at the Astrophysical Observatory on Little Saanich Mountain. He then was driven along the waterfront and through the residential districts of the city before returning to St. Ann's, where he and the bishop and members of the clergy were guests at a private and informal dinner.

The cardinal was the celebrant at benediction in the Convent chapel—the first Roman Catholic Cathedral in Victoria—which was candle lit and massed with flowers. The scene was a brilliant one, the cardinal being garbed in his official robes of red and white. Following benediction His Eminence held an informal reception in the academy drawing-room. Those whom he received knelt and kissed his ring and were given his blessing. Later he inspected the building and went across Heywood Avenue to see the first convent and school of the Sisters of St. Ann in British Columbia. He was greatly interested in this, for it was in this log cabin that the first four sisters from his native province of Quebec established themselves when they came to Victoria in 1858.

PRESENTATION TO ORDINAND
In connection with the ordination of Robert Ward, B.A., which is to take place in St. John's Church tomorrow morning at the 11 o'clock service, the authorities of St. John's Church are making arrangements for a presentation to be made to the ordinand.

The presentation will be made at an informal reception which will be held in St. John's schoolroom immediately after the service in the evening. At this service Mr. Ward will give his first sermon after his ordination, and the presentation will be made by S. C. Hawkins and R. E. Burns, church wardens of St. John's, on behalf of the congregation. Rev. Canon F. A. Chadwick, rector of the parish, will preside.

Houses Too Close To Property Line
To avoid repetition of a recent error by contractors who built several new houses on Dalhousie Street and two of them were not far enough back from the street line, the Oak Bay Council yesterday approved a suggestion to have the street line surveyed.

It was explained the newly-constructed houses which were out of line were only a matter of a few inches out but further building without a new survey might result in the error being so serious it would be necessary to move the houses.

THE SPORTS MIRROR

By PETE SALLAWAY

TRAVELING to Toronto by automobile via the United States, with a couple of racing bikes strapped on the back, is providing lots of excitement for the citizens of small towns along the route. This was the information contained in a letter received this week from Doug Peden. The note was posted at Forsyth, Montana. According to Doug, none of the people in that country had ever seen a racing bike before, and everywhere the Victoria party stopped a group collected around to inspect the machines and ask questions.

In his letter Doug stated he figured his chances of making the trip to the Olympic Games in Berlin looked mighty good. He is apparently planning on taking advantage of the chance to go along with the Windsor basketball team. Of course, he may make the Canadian bike racing squad, and in that way would have his expenses paid. If he went along with the Windsor hoopers he would most likely have to dig down in his own jeans.

In closing Doug asked to tell the members of the Dominions basketball team that the gophers in Montana are more numerous, bigger and more inquisitive than those in Raymond, Alberta. When the local ragers visited the latter place during the Canadian basketball play-downs they had a lot of fun shooting and chasing these elusive creatures.

Ugly ducklings of the turf frequently go on to give those who grew up on them the horse laugh. Rushaway and Indian Broom are current examples.

When Al Tarn paid Joseph E. Widener $10,000 for Rushaway, the prince of Belmont Park felt so sorry for Tarn that he tossed in a two-year-old called Visibility so that the Winnipeg man would not feel he was getting the worst of the deal.

When Rushaway was beaten the first time Tarn started him, Widener told a friend:

"Well, my judgment has been vindicated. I knew the horse was just an ordinary one."

Tarn tried to get several wealthy men to put up some of the purchase price of Rushaway, but no one would come in with him, so he paid the entire amount himself. The Canadian already has a $25,000 profit on the deal and still has a gelding that may establish some sort of a record for bagging derbies.

Rushaway won the Louisiana, Illinois and Latoria derbies, the latter two on successive days, with an overnight ride between. The willing and level-headed son of Haste now is headed for the Chicago, Detroit and Suffolk Downs derbies.

Indian Broom is a scraggy fellow, rather underbred. Being a son of Broom is no great recommendation, so Whistling Bob Smith, who runs the works for the wealthy Brookmeade Stable, let Indian Broom go to another Canadian, Major Austin C. Taylor of Vancouver.

Indian Broom set a world record in running away from the crack Top Row and Aucar in the Marchbank handicap at Tanforan, otherwise did very well in California for his new owner and might have won the Kentucky Derby with a better ride.

Seven Sunday School Softball League games are scheduled for tomorrow, three in the senior league and four in the junior division. Two games are carded for next Wednesday. ## Kay Stammers In Sensational Win Over Miss Jacobs

Defeats American Champion 12-10, 6-1; Britons Win Two Singles

Invaders Rally To Take Doubles

Wimbledon, Eng., June 12.—Great Britain opened a powerful attack for possession of the Wightman Cup today by winning the two opening singles but dropped the doubles contest. The home team thus led the United States, 2 to 1, in matches at the finish of the first day's play.

Kay Stammers, the left-handed star, defeated Helen Jacobs, United States champion, 12-10, 6-1, and Dorothy Round, former all-England champion, won from Mrs. Sarah Paley Fabyan, Brookline, Mass., 6-3, 6-4.

By an uphill fight in the third set, the United States doubles team of Mrs. John Van Ryn, Philadelphia, and Carolin Babcock, Los Angeles, defeated Nancy Lyle and Evelyn Dearman, British, 6-2, 1-6, 6-3.

Suddenly rallying the gathering gloom when all looked lost, Miss Babcock and Mrs. Van Ryn hit a streak of inspired tennis, after trailing 0-3 in the final set.

The best four-of-seven match series, which finds the United States defending the cup for the fourth straight year, will end tomorrow with three single and one doubles match.

Single pairings: Mrs. Fabyan vs. Miss Stammers; Miss Jacobs vs. Miss Round; Miss Babcock vs. Ruth Mary Hardwick; doubles, Miss Jacobs and Mrs. Fabyan vs. Miss Stammers and Freda James.

The first set in the Stammers-Jacobs match was the longest in the cup competition—started in 1928—and it was Miss Stammers' second triumph over the four-times United States champion in as many years.

Miss Stammers won the marathon first set after an uphill battle. She trailed 3-0 in games but pulled up level in the eighth game.

In the twentieth game, with Miss Jacobs serving, Miss Stammers was only one point away from a set victory, but the American star rallied to take the game and prolong the struggle.

A light drizzle that later materialized into a heavy drizzle, interrupted play at the end of the twenty-first game when the British star leading 11-10. Miss Jacobs, fatigued from the long duel, dropped the deciding twenty-second game on service.

The British left-handed star swept through the second set in short order. Her rival appeared discouraged and seemed to make little effort.

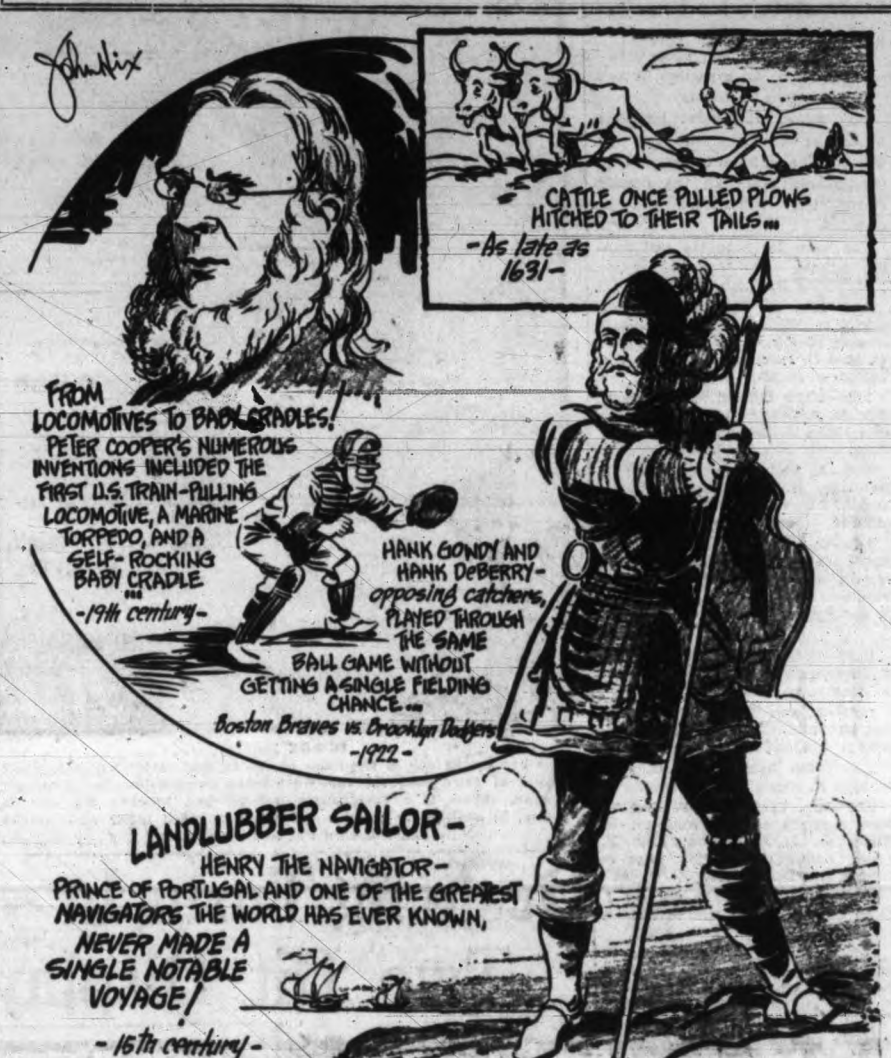

"It was just luckier than Helen," said Miss Stammers after the match. "The rain put her off more than me and she couldn't get warm again. It was particularly hard to serve that twenty-second game without first hitting a few practice shots."

Miss Jacobs would not charge her defeat to the rain. "I can only say Kay played magnificently."

The Fabyan-Round match was a tame affair compared with the Jacobs-Stammers contest. Mrs. Fabyan, a brilliant volleyer, attempted to stay with Miss Round in deep baseline rallies and failed as the former Wimbledon finalist usually finished off rallies by blasting the ball to the corners and catching her rival out of position.

TALE PLOW
Strange as it seems, the common farm plow, basically simple as it is today, arrived at its present form only after years of slow and painful development.

Used as late as 1631 by fastening wooden plows to the tails of draft cattle, it was not until the late nineteenth century that iron plows came into widespread usage in the United States. It was believed by a large number of farmers that castiron plows poisoned the soil, preventing their crops from growing and fostering weed growth.

Palmer Brilliant In Softball Win

Allows Lone Hit as Brundson's Boys Whip Silent Glows 3 to 0; Puts Team in Sole Possession of First Place; V.A.C. Troupe Jokers

Brundson's Boys moved into undisputed possession of first place in the A section softball pennant chase yesterday evening, when they blanked the Silent Glows 3 to 0, after a close 'bottle at Victoria West Park.

Hammering out fifteen hits from the slants of a pair of Jokers' pitchers, Victoria Athletic Club registered a 13 to 7 win at the Athletic Club, which placed them in second position.

Throwing no-hit ball for eight innings, "Red" Palmer, ace twirler for Brundson's, just missed getting a perfect game. His slants tied up the Silent Glows batters for eight innings, but in the ninth Ken Fleming beat out a bunt for the only hit Palmer allowed.

"Chuck" Turner, operating on the mound for the burnermen, allowed six scattered hits.

Victoria-Nanaimo in Dominion Cup Soccer Match Tomorrow

Smart Elevens Will Clash At Athletic Park

Kick-off Set For 3 o'clock; Restall Replaces DeCosta in Local Net

Gordie Bell Will Play For Visitors

Victoria's representative soccer team, playing under the colors of the Victoria West, will open its bid tomorrow for Canadian honors, when it opposes Nanaimo City in the first round of the Dominion Cup series. Play will commence at 3 o'clock with T. M. Robb as referee.

With fine weather forecast and a first-class playing pitch the match is expected to attract a big turn out. Nanaimo has always proven a popular club with local followers and with a smart outfit to oppose them the fans are looking for a great battle. Officials in charge of the Victoria team announced yesterday that Tommy Restall, youthful goalie of the Victoria West first-division eleven, will replace Louis De Costa in goal. The latter has been called out of town making the change necessary. This will be one of the few occasions that a Victoria rep squad has taken the field without the veteran De Costa between the sticks. Restall is a first-class net minder and should give a good account of himself.

The Victoria team looks well balanced. In the fullback positions will be Sammy Seiler and Freddie Gibson. The halfback line will include Ronnie Williams, Roy Barnes and Glen Robbins.

On the forward line a change has been made with the youthful Eddie De Costa, replacing John Watt at centre forward. Watt has been placed on the substitute list. At outside right will be Scotty Robinson, who will replace Gordie Bell, transferred to Nanaimo. The remainder of the forwards will be Scotty Stewart, Noel Morgan and George Payne. The other two substitutes will be Jack Cook and George Leggett.

Included on the Nanaimo line-up will be Gordie Bell and no doubt the fans will be quite interested in the performance of the right winger against his former teammates. The remainder of the club will be the same as that which appeared here several weeks ago against Victoria City in a cup match.

Results of opening fixtures in the Greater Victoria Horseshoe Pitching Association's doubles play follow:

G. Ledingham and L. Dash 98, J. Keating and H. Dundas 102; L. Cockrell and R. McKennie 101; W. Merriman and W. A. Evans 97, A. D. McLeod and A. Pinkerton 100, A. Rutherford and P. Bennett 64, H. Kirkham and J. B. Smith 100, J. Slater and P. Kroeger 36, C. Groth and H. Gardner 100, H. H. Pearce and H. A. Bates 36.

Deshong Turns In Two Hit Display

Gives Brilliant Mound Performance as Washington Blanks Chicago 2 to 0; Yankees and Red Sox Move Win; Chicago Cubs Move Into Second in National League

If he's not doing so yet, Joe McCarthy probably will be "mooching" his first big American League race gets much older, over the deal by which his New York Yankees parted company with pitcher Jimmy Deshong.

The one thing the Yanks apparently will need in the stretch is pitching. Their mound staff, from all indications, may be the difference between a pennant and second place—just as it was last year.

Last January the Yanks gave up Deshong and Jesse Hill to Washington in exchange for Bump Hadley and Roy Johnson. To date Deshong is taking his regular turn on the mound for the Nats, and has chalked up seven wins against three losses. Hadley is just "another guy named Joe," so far as the Yanks are concerned.

Deshong shut out the Chicago White Sox cold with two hits yesterday for a 2 to 0 victory. Hadley, meantime, was one of five pitchers McCarthy sent to the mound before the Tigers subdued the Detroit Tigers, 10 to 9, in ten slugging innings.

RED SOX WIN

The Yanks, however, could not increase their two and one-half game first-place edge, for the Boston Red Sox came from behind to down the St. Louis Browns, 7 to 5. The seventh-place Philadelphia Athletics turned the trick on the Cleveland Indians 5 to 2.

The head of the National League race tightened up on the strength of the Chicago Cubs 6 to 4 win over the Boston Bees, to move into second place over the idle Pittsburgh Pirates. The St. Louis Cardinals' lead was sliced to three and one-half games when the pacesetters were roundly belted by the lowly Phillies, 12 to 4, for the first time this season.

The New York Giants at Pittsburgh were rained out, while the Cincinnati Reds noosed out Brooklyn 4 to 3 in the season's second night game.

COAST LEAGUE

Leadership in the Coast League changed again yesterday evening when Seattle defeated Oakland, 3 to 1, with sturdy Lou Kouppel humiliating the Accorns with a five-hit performance.

Seattle's victory was its first of three in this week's series at Emeryville, and gave Dutch Reuther's team a half-game lead.

The veteran Missions' hurler, Walter Stewart, subdued the Angels at Los Angeles, 6 to 3.

Portland and San Diego improved their percentages by winning the third in a row from Sacramento and San Francisco, respectively.

PAIR TIED IN GOLF TOURNEY

Rod Munday and Craig Wood Score 70's in General Brock Open

Fonthill, Ont., June 12.—The General Brock open golf tournament, with $4,100 in cash still dangling fifty-four holes ahead, took on all the effects of a dog fight yesterday as the field of ninety struggled over the rain-soaked Lookout Point course.

Nearly a third of the sharpshooting squad that trudged all day long under heavy, threatening clouds in surprisingly cold weather put up scores that had to be reckoned with, but a pair of invading professionals from the United States set a par 70 in the opening test for the rest to shoot at.

Rod Munday, Santa Rosa, Cal., among the earlier starters, lost no time in cracking par by one stroke on his outgoing nine for a 34. He added a 36 and kept his 70 all to himself until the veteran Craig Wood, New York, shot par on each nine and took over his share of the leadership. EATON HAS 71

With a pair of Canadians only two strokes behind, a youthful pro from Oklahoma City, Zell Eaton, came suddenly from nowhere late in the day with a 71.

Bobby Burns, Montreal, and Bill Kerr, Toronto Hunt Club, headed the Canadian aspirants with 72's, but had to share the position with Gene Kunes, Canadian open champion from Ridgewood, N.J., and Ralph Guidahl, St. Louis.

Tony Manero, dominating the Brock title he won at its inaugural with 221 last year, dropped back into the 75 class. The new open champion of the United States played steadily enough on his first nine with a 36, but faltered coming home and went four over par with a 39.

A quartette of American pros with cards of 73 crowded the leaders. Ray Mangrum, Dayton, Ohio; Paul Jones, newcomer to the east from Whittier, Cal.; E. F. "Dutch" Harrison, Little Rock, Ark., and Frank Hodgson, Buffalo, shot into the same class with 73's.

Two Young Golfers Reach City Final

Miss Dorothy Fletcher and Miss Mary Mackenzie-Grieve Met Today at Uplands For Championship; Latter Eliminates Mrs. E. Jackson, Defending Champion

Over the well-conditioned Uplands Club links two youthful exponents of the royal and ancient yesterday battled their way into the final of the women's city golf championship. They were Miss Dorothy Fletcher and Miss Mary Mackenzie-Grieve, both members of the home club. The former won her semi-final from Mrs. H. G. Mackenzie, 6 and 5, while Miss Mackenzie-Grieve ended the reign of Mrs. E. Jackson when she defeated the defending champion, 4 and 2.

Miss Fletcher has played sound golf through the championship since lifting the medal honors on Monday. Miss Mackenzie-Grieve, winner of the title three years ago at Colwood, has been just as steady, being the runner-up to Miss Fletcher in the qualifying round.

GAINS EARLY LEAD

In her match with Mrs. Mackenzie the medalist went into an early lead and held it. The first hole was won by Miss Fletcher, but she dropped the second when she lost her putting touch. Miss Fletcher regained a one-hole margin by capturing the third and went two up with a birdie two at the fourth. The fifth hole was halved with Miss Fletcher taking the sixth. Mrs. Mackenzie won back a hole at the seventh, but Miss Fletcher got par at the eighth and ninth to be four up at the turn.

The tenth, eleventh and twelfth holes were halved, but Miss Fletcher ended the match by taking the thirteenth with a par four. Taking the lead at the second hole,

Miss Mackenzie-Grieve never allowed Mrs. Jackson to get back onto even terms. The former champion won the seventh to become two up, and then took the eighth. The ninth was halved, leaving Miss Mackenzie-Grieve three up at the halfway point.

BECOMES FOUR UP

Who's Who At Hotels

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Dawson of Vancouver arrived in the city this morning. Mr. Dawson is the owner of the Plaza Theatre and visits the city frequently. "I like Victoria and want to spend a few days here golfing and fishing," he said.

Even if it did rain, and the fish did not bite, Colonel and Mrs. Hilton Green of Taunton, Devonshire, have no regrets about the ten-day trip up the island from which they have just returned.

At the Empress Hotel this morning Mrs. Green said they were delighted with Qualicum Beach, where they spent the greater part of the time. Colonel Green is rather disappointed about the fishing, which is one of his chief interests.

The California contingent at the Empress Hotel is steadily growing. Arrivals since noon yesterday include P. Shipman, San Francisco; Mr. and Mrs. W. Anderson, Berkeley; Mr. and Mrs. Milo-Baker, Beverly Hills; Mrs. K. M. Hayes and her two daughters, Oakland; Mr. and Mrs. F. Fredy, San Francisco; and Mrs. B. G. Wood, Sacramento.

Canadians at the Empress today include W. G. Stenson, Winnipeg; Miss W. M. Prouse, Brampton, Ont.; Mrs. G. E. Knechtel, Edmonton; Miss A. Ahern, Ottawa; Mrs. R. A. Seasons, Ottawa; and D. S. Sinclair, Toronto.

Miss L. J. Hagus of Denver, Colo., is among United States visitors profiting by the beautiful weather here today. Miss Hagus arrived at the Empress yesterday.

The eastern United States are well represented at the Glenahiel Hotel today. The visitors' list includes Miss Fannie Meyer of Atlantic City, N.J., who plans to remain here for several days; Mrs. Ella L. Dinmore of Alford, N.H.; and Miss B. L. Newman, Boston.

Other recent arrivals at the Glenahiel from the United States are Miss Mae Martin, Los Angeles, and Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Beck and their daughter from Portland.

Latest to join the fair number of New Yorkers who are scattered among Victoria's hotels at present are Mrs. W. H. Collins and Mrs. E. G. Martin, at the Beach Hotel.

J. Flynn, Toronto, who is at the Strathcona Hotel today, has had the opportunity to form a fairly comprehensive opinion of the United States. He is on his way home now in the

Owing to the fact the land at the south end of Poul Bay Road is a road allowance, the city and Oak Bay have no authority to permit construction of a community bathhouse on that property, H. S. Pringle, city solicitor, notified the city in a written opinion yesterday.

Reductions in the price of several brands of cocktails from $2.25 to $2 a bottle and one brand of rum from $3.40 to $3 on the shelves of the British Columbia Government liquor stores were announced today.

An application for naturalization was heard by Judge P. S. Lampan today in county court today from Alec Robert Nelson, Strawberry Vale. Character testimony was supplied by Samuel Ball and A. E. Hull, farmers of the district in which the applicant, a native of Sweden, has resided since 1912.

Officials of the B.C. Liquor Control Board said today that an offer had been made to rent them premises on Oak Bay Avenue in the new theatre building for a liquor store, but that no action had been taken about it. Views of the residents would naturally be taken into consideration in locating a new store if it was decided that one should be put in Oak Bay, it was explained.

An interesting afternoon was spent last Wednesday by seventy pupils of Lampan Street School, Esquimalt. In a letter received at the City Hall today the Department of Marine asked the City Council if it saw any objection to the granting of a water lot to the Standard Oil Company, B.C. Muirgrave and Whyte and covered the old Pioneer Sand and Gravel Company property, the letter said.

Miss Stuart will illustrate her address with films and slides, and will interpret the songs and dances of the natives of her country. The lecture will be open to members of the Junior Chamber and their friends.

In the Saanich Police Court yesterday Magistrate Jay dismissed the charge against W. D. Smith, Peitham Road, of having beer for sale, on a technicality on which objection was raised at a previous hearing by Stuart Henderson, defence counsel.

The objection was launched against testimony of Chief Allan Rankin, who gave evidence of a previous conviction against the accused while he was in the witness box. The evidence was given in reply to questions from E. L. Henderson, prosecutor. Such evidence, Mr. Henderson submitted, was only permissible after a conviction had been made against the accused.

Victoria's action in sending to Petersburg, Eng., an arbutus tree to be planted on the grave of Capt. George Vancouver, brought fine publicity to the city of Vancouver, Mayor David Leeming remarked yesterday upon receipt of press clippings on the function.

The mayor noted the tree had been sent from the capital, at the instigation of Charles Pemberton, who accumulated the historic facts leading up to its shipment W. A. McAdam, acting agent-general for British Columbia in London, forwarded to the mayor a copy of an address he had given at the tree planting, along with press clippings on the event. Both spoke widely of Vancouver's jubilee and gave cursory mention to Victoria, the address quoting a message from Mayor Leeming at its close.

Longshoremen Ask City Aid

Riggers and Transport Workers Seek Support in Reinstatement Move

A request from the Victoria Riggers and Transport Workers that the business and trades development committee of the City Council make another effort to secure reinstatement of their members on the local waterfront, was heard by that committee yesterday.

At present, spokesmen for the longshoremen explained, the riggers are working cargo on American Mail Line and Pacific Steamship Company ships on a fifty-fifty basis with the Victoria Longshoremen's Association. They are denied work on any other ships calling here.

They want recognition for all lines in view of the fact the existing agreement between stevedoring companies and the longshoremen was due for consideration in a short time.

WANT NEW LEASE

The committee also considered a request from the Holsum Packing Company, seeking the renewal of its lease with the city for plant property at 41 a year for the next ten years. The existing agreement terminates at the end of 1936 and the company wishes to make alterations to its plant, but does not feel prepared to do so unless it is guaranteed a continuation of its lease at the nominal figure. The committee decided to ask the directors of the company to appear before it and explain more fully their intentions.

Consideration was given by the land and zoning committee and the business and trades to an application from W. T. Malmwarig seeking permission to erect a bungalow court on the George Road. It was understood residents of the district objected to such a plan and the committee decided to give it further consideration before making a decision.

PROVISIONS FOR FLOOD VICTIMS

In a flat-bottomed boat with a twenty-four-horsepower outboard motor, Cpl. H. Raybone and Game Warden E. Martin left Prince Rupert today for Terrace with provisions for isolated settlers.

The two officers will go as far as Kwinitsa, where contact will be made with Canadian National employees. From Kwinitsa a temporary freight service will be established.

The provincial government is arranging for more permanent freight service up the Skeena to assist flood sufferers, as it is feared a considerable time will elapse before train service is resumed.

From McNamee Creek, Radio Operator Jack Meek of the provincial police force, reported the road from Telegraph Creek to Dease Lake is impassable, but the high water did considerable damage.

The Stikine River boat from Wrangell, which had been marooned owing to the flood, was due at Telegraph Creek some time today. The water in Dease Lake is higher than the oldest Indian settler can remember.

Several cabins have been flooded, but no other damage was reported.

B.C. Timber Used In Empire Display

British Columbia lumber will be used in the construction of the Empire exhibition in Johannesburg, South Africa, this year, the Bureau of Provincial Information has been advised. The show, which will be strictly an empire display, will open on September 15. The buildings will cover 100 acres. A total of 672,000 board feet of B.C. lumber has been ordered for the job.

The executive committee in charge of Victoria's celebration of Dominion Day will meet this evening at the City Hall at 7:30 o'clock to discuss the programme.

Three men and a woman who pleaded guilty in the City Police Court this morning to charges of speeding through school zones were each fined $20.

Theft of a German army officer's revolver and a pair of gold cuff links from his home at 1720 Fernwood Road was reported to the city police by J. R. Wescott.

Fourteen and a half gallons of paint, valued at $50, have been stolen from 3035 Blackwood Avenue, according to a city police report filed by the White Construction Company.

A number of begonia plants have been stolen within the last two days from the flower bed in the Parliament Buildings grounds facing Belleville Street, according to a city police report.

The first freak among annual bedding plants was brought up to the office yesterday afternoon. It was a Siamese twin anemone, and was found by Mrs. J. McPhee in her garden at 1022 Plinphant Street.

Dr. J. Fitzsimmons of Minto City has been appointed medical health officer for Minto City and surrounding district, including Bridge River Valley, and school health inspector for Minto and Goldbridge schools.

THE YIM YANKEE GIRL
Story by MAL COCHRAN
Illustrated by GEORGE SCARBO

"Oh, goodness me, what awful luck we always have. Once more we're stuck," wailed Windy. "Now our dog is gone. That spoils a dandy ride."

"The hound, which was a work of art, was ready to hitch to a cart. Then Duncy had to spoil it all. Gee, I could tan his hide."

"Why did you make that crazy cat? You ought to know a thing like that would make our wooden hound run wild," snapped Goldy, with a frown.

"Now there's no need to build a cart, 'cause we have no way to depart. Just think! You've spoiled our plan to drive off to some brand-new town."

"I'm sorry," they heard Duncy say. "But, tots, I know another way that we can move from this place, if the magic man will aid."

"He is a carpenter, you see, and just as clever as can be. If he is willing, something we can ride in can be made."

"Gee, Duncy, maybe you are right. Let's plead with him with all our might," said Goldy. Then the magic man said, "You won't have to plead. I think the plan's a dandy one, and building something will be fun. You see, I still have lots of wood and all the tools I need."

"Hip, hip, hooray! What shall it be? Most anything's all right with me," yelled Goldy. "Make suggestions and we'll pick the best of all. 'Cause I would rather fly than float. Besides, once more into the soaking we might all fall."

The whole bunch thought for quite a while and then fair Dotty, with a smile, said, "How about a box kite that will carry all of us?" The magic man exclaimed, "Okay! I'll start to build one right away. With some help from you tines, 'won't take long to get it done."

Complete Theft Case Testimony

P. J. H. Van Oudenol and J. M. Potter Trial Adjourned Until Monday

Testimony of P. J. H. Van Oudenol and J. M. Potter, on a charge of stealing $400, was adjourned in county court today by Judge P. S. Lampan when all evidence had been completed.

Argument will be heard on Monday morning, starting at 11 o'clock.

Henry Hall, K.C., crown counsel, completed cross-examination of Potter early in the morning.

Judge Lampan raised question regarding a letter from the accused in which an agreement had been reached whereby O. H. Handley was to receive 400 shares in a new company to operate the Sooke mill for payment of $400.

Mr. Handley could hardly expect the defendants to spend that money in clearing up board and grocery bills, his honor said. How, he asked Potter, did he expect the mill to get into operation by using the money for that purpose?

NOT FOR MORTGAGE

Van Oudenol, on the stand, said the evidence given by Potter was correct. He told the court he had not intended to use the $400 to pay off the Creighton mortgage held on the Sooke mill for the operation of which he was attempting to secure finances. Van Oudenol gave evidence he had instructed his solicitor to keep Mr. Creighton "interested" to avoid him becoming "hard-boiled" when a crew was sent to the mill to start work.

In cross-examination, Mr. Hall asked Van Oudenol if H. B. Witter of the Royal Bank, Victoria West, had told him he would not be able to advance him credit unless the sum for which the credit was sought was guaranteed by the H. R. McMillan Company of Vancouver, from which Van Oudenol said orders for timber had been received.

Van Oudenol said he thought the orders sufficient security to secure an advance.

During the entire negotiations he and Potter had secured between $1,600 and $1,700 from Charles Desford and O. H. Handley, witness said.

Van Oudenol told the court he did not think a charge of $200 a month for himself and Potter excessive for the work they were doing.

Judge Lampan asked the defendant if he had had conversations with Mr. Handley regarding the sum of $400 the latter had advanced. Van Oudenol replied only what was in the letter whereby Handley secured 400 shares in the proposed new company.

"How did Mr. Handley get a $400 interest when you took the money for your own expenses," the judge asked. Van Oudenol replied Mr. Handley knew the manner in which expenses were being taken from the general fund.

H. B. Witter, in answer to questions, told the court he had informed Van Oudenol the bank would advance no credit unless it received a guarantee from the H. R. McMillan Company to the extent of the loan.

Charles Desford returned to the stand to say no mention was made by the defendants of using the $400 in question for living expenses. That sum, he said, was to be for the Creighton mortgage payment. Nothing was said to indicate Van Oudenol and Potter should be paid $200 a month in wages for their work. Mr. Desford said in reply to question.

R. F. Bainbridge, counsel for the defence, asked an adjournment to study other charges.
